Jury Outreach Program

The Jury Outreach Program offers Connecticut students and communities an opportunity to learn about one of the most important components of our system of justice. The program, which began in 2003, ensures that more people understand the role of jury service in a free society under law. Our speakers have visited over 165 high schools and community organizations throughout Connecticut and conducted nearly 950 presentations in front of well over 28,000 people (see Jury Outreach Program Statistics). The magnitude of our success is a direct result of leaders like you making a commitment to students and the community. Our goal is to continue this innovative program and reach more students and adults in the years ahead.

In addition to the high school presentations, the Jury Outreach Program speakers have conducted presentations at libraries, rotary clubs, senior centers, colleges, Adult Education programs, middle schools and elementary schools. The speakers have also participated in many community events, including the Laurel Girls State, Grandparents Day Family Fair, The West Indian Celebration, Family Day at Keney Park, Waterbury City Fest, Juneteenth of Fairfield County and various events at the Salvation Army.

We look forward to scheduling a date to visit your school or organization. Please do not hesitate to call:
