Section 1: Introduction to Types of Guardianship
A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

- “There are two types of guardianship for minors: guardianship of the person of a minor and guardianship of the estate of a minor. A guardian of the person has the responsibility to care for the minor. A guardian of the estate manages the assets of the minor.”
  User Guide - Guardians of Minors (CT Probate Courts)

- “The provisions of sections 45a-603 to 45a-622, inclusive, shall be liberally construed in the best interests of any minor child affected by them, provided the requirements of such sections are otherwise satisfied.”

- “'Guardianship’ means guardianship of the person of a minor, and includes: (A) The obligation of care and control; (B) the authority to make major decisions affecting the minor's education and welfare, including, but not limited to, consent determinations regarding marriage, enlistment in the armed forces and major medical, psychiatric or surgical treatment; and (C) upon the death of the minor, the authority to make decisions concerning funeral arrangements and the disposition of the body of the minor;”

- Father and mother joint guardians: “The father and mother of every minor child are joint guardians of the person of the minor, and the powers, rights and duties of the father and the mother in regard to the minor shall be equal. If either father or mother dies or is removed as guardian, the other parent of the minor child shall become the sole guardian of the person of the minor.”

  See - Section 2: Parents as Guardians (page 6)

- Temporary guardian: “Any parent or guardian of the person of a minor may apply to the court of probate for the district in which the minor lives for the appointment of a temporary guardian of the person to serve for no longer than one year if the appointing parent or guardian is unable to care for the minor for any reason including, but not limited to, illness and absence from the jurisdiction. The temporary guardian will cease to serve when the appointing parent or guardian notifies the probate court and the temporary guardian to that effect.”

  See - Section 3: Temporary Guardians (page 14)

- Standby guardian of minor: “A parent or guardian, as principal, may designate a standby guardian of a minor in accordance with the provisions of sections 45a-624 to 45a-624g, inclusive. Such designation, in a form as provided in section 45a-624b, shall take effect upon the occurrence of a specified contingency, including, but not limited to, the mental incapacity, physical debilitation or death of the principal....”

  See - Section 4: Standby Guardians (page 17)
• Coguardians: “If any minor has no parent or guardian of his or her person, the court of probate for the district in which the minor resides may, on its own motion, appoint a guardian or coguardians of the person of the minor, taking into consideration the standards provided in section 45a-617.” § 45a-616(a) (2015).

“If any minor has a parent or guardian, who is the sole guardian of the person of the child, the court of probate for the district in which the minor resides may, on the application of the parent or guardian of such child or of the Commissioner of Children and Families with the consent of such parent or guardian and with regard to a child within the care of the commissioner, appoint one or more persons to serve as coguardians of the child.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-616(b) (2015).

• Permanent guardianship “means a guardianship, as defined in subdivision (5) of this section, that is intended to endure until the minor reaches the age of majority without termination of the parental rights of the minor’s parents;” § 45a-604(8) (2015).

See - [Section 5: Guardians, Coguardians, and Permanent Guardians Appointed by the Courts](page 19)

• Guardian of the Estate of Minor - Limitation on receipt or use of minor’s property by parent, guardian or spouse: “A parent of a minor, guardian of the person of a minor or spouse of a minor shall not receive or use any property belonging to the minor in an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars in value unless appointed guardian of the estate of the minor, except that such parent, guardian or spouse may hold property as a custodian under the provisions of sections 45a-557 to 45a-560b, inclusive, without being so appointed.” Conn. Gen. Stats. § 45a-631(a) (2015).

See - [Section 6: Guardians of the Estate of a Minor](page 31)

Gen. Stat. § 45a-596(a) (2015).

See - [Section 7: Testamentary Guardians](page 35)

• Plenary guardian of a person with intellectual disability: “means a person, legally authorized state official, or private nonprofit corporation, except a hospital, nursing home facility, as defined in section 19a-521, or residential care home, as defined in section 19a-521, appointed by a court of probate pursuant to the provisions of sections 45a-669 to 45a-684, inclusive, to supervise all aspects of the care of an adult person, as enumerated in subsection (d) of section 45a-677, for the benefit of such adult, who by reason of the severity of his or her intellectual disability, has been determined to be totally unable to meet essential requirements for his physical health or safety and totally unable to make informed decisions about matters related to his or her care.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-669(a) (2015).
Limited guardian of a person with intellectual disability “means a person, legally authorized state official, or a private nonprofit corporation, except a hospital or nursing home, as defined in section 19a-521, appointed by a court of probate pursuant to the provisions of sections 45a-669 to 45a-684, inclusive, to supervise certain specified aspects of the care of an adult person, as enumerated in subsection (d) of section 45a-677, for the benefit of such adult, who by reason of the severity of his intellectual disability, has been determined to be able to do some, but not all, of the tasks necessary to meet essential requirements for his physical health or safety or to make some, but not all, informed decisions about matters related to his care.” Conn. A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:
- Bibliographic resources relating to parents as guardians of minors in Connecticut

DEFINITIONS:
- Parents as joint guardians: “The plain purpose of the statute was to make the legal rights of the father and the mother equal as joint guardians. Though they live separate and apart, their legal rights as guardians remain equal.” Pfeiffer v. Pfeiffer, 99 Conn. 154, 157, 121 A. 174 (1923).

- "Until a court determines otherwise, both parents are the co-equal guardians of the person of their minor children." Treat v. Verderame, Superior Court, Judicial District of Ansonia-Milford at Milford (July 14, 2000) (27 Conn. L. Rptr. 483), 2000 WL 1058684.

- Mother: “means a woman who can show proof by means of a birth certificate or other sufficient evidence of having given birth to a child and an adoptive mother as shown by a decree of a court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-604 (1) (2015).

- Father: “means a man who is a father under the law of this state including a man who, in accordance with section 46b-172, executes a binding acknowledgment of paternity and a man determined to be a father under chapter 815y.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-604 (2) (2015).

- Parent: “means a mother as defined in subdivision (1) of this section or a “father” as defined in subdivision (2) of this section.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-604 (3) (2015).

- Father and mother joint guardians: "The father and mother of every minor child are joint guardians of the person of the minor, and the powers, rights and duties of the father and the mother in regard to the minor shall be equal. If either father or mother dies or is removed as guardian, the other parent of the minor child shall become the sole guardian of the person of the minor.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-606 (2015).

- Presumption re best interest of the child to be in custody of parent: “In any dispute as to the custody of a minor child involving a parent and a nonparent, there shall be a presumption that it is in the best interest of the child to be in the custody of the parent, which presumption may be rebutted by showing that it would be detrimental to the child to permit the parent to have custody.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 46b-56b (2015).
• Claim for paternity by putative father: "Failing perfection of parental rights as prescribed by this section, any person claiming to be the father of a child born out of wedlock (1) who has not been adjudicated the father of such child by a court of competent jurisdiction, or (2) who has not acknowledged in writing that he is the father of such child, or (3) who has not contributed regularly to the support of such child, or (4) whose name does not appear on the birth certificate, shall cease to be a legal party in interest in any proceeding concerning the custody or welfare of the child, including, but not limited to, guardianship and adoption, unless he has shown a reasonable degree of interest, concern or responsibility for the child’s welfare." COURT CASES:
- Martocchio v. Savoir et al., 153 Conn. App. 492, 499-500, 101 A.3d 953 (2014). “...the dispositive issue in this appeal is whether, in the absence of a proper Roth analysis, the defendants [grandparents and former guardians] have standing to proceed with their claim for visitation with the minor child....Our Supreme Court observed that ‘Troxel [Troxel v. Granville, 530 U.S. 57, 120 S. Ct. 2054, 147 L.Ed. 2d 49 (2000)] teaches that courts must presume that fit parents act in the best interests of their children, and that so long as a parent adequately cares for his or her children (i.e., is fit), there will normally be no reason for the State to inject itself into the private realm of the family to further question the ability of that parent to make the best decisions concerning the rearing of that parent’s children…. Moreover, Troxel that among those interests lying at the core of a parent’s right to care for his or her own children is the right to control their associations.... Furthermore, Troxel confirms that the family integrity is the core element upon which modern civilization is founded and that the safeguarding of familial bonds is an innate concomitant of the protective status accorded the family as a societal institution.’” Roth v. Weston, 259 Conn. 202, 216-217.

- In Re Jaccari J., 153 Conn. App. 599, 604-605, 101 A.2d 961 (2014). “Ultimately, the court concluded that the children had ‘a long-term continuous relationship with their biological parent, the father. [The grandmother] has been unable to provide for the boys’ medical and therapy needs and follow through with the recommendations of the therapists on a consistent basis.’”

“The court went on to find, by a fair preponderance of the evidence, that “it is in the best interest of both [children] that guardianship and custody be transferred to their father....”

“’The court finds that ... the biological father of [the children] is suitable and worthy.’”

Guardianship - 9
- In Re Brian W., 124 Conn. App. 787, 6 A.3d 136 (2010). "General Statutes § 45a-611 (a) and (b) provide that, in order to reinstate the parent as guardian, the court must find that the factors that resulted in the removal of the parent have been resolved satisfactorily and that it is in the best interests of the children to do so. In this appeal, the respondents claim that the trial court improperly concluded that the petitioner had resolved those factors and that transferring custody to the petitioner was in the best interests of the children.”

- In re Max V., Superior Court, Judicial District of Middlesex at Middletown, No. M08CP09011047A (May 12, 2010) (2010 WL 2926045). "Removal of a parent as guardian does not terminate the parent's right to see the child and to be involved in the child's life. In fact, General Statutes § 45a-612 specifically provides for the visitation rights of a parent removed as guardian. Moreover, General Statutes § 45a-611 provides for the reinstatement of a parent as guardian of the person of a minor child, if appropriate.”

- In re DeLeon J., 290 Conn. 371, 963 A. 2d 53 (2009). "On appeal, the respondent claims that, pursuant to § 45a-611, she was entitled to a hearing on the merits of her petition for reinstatement of guardianship and that the court violated her right to due process by denying her petition without providing her with adequate notice of the time and date for that hearing. We agree.”

- In Re Tayquon H., 76 Conn. App. 693, 710, 821 A.2d 796 (2003). “Although the issues are clouded by the appointment of an attorney as well as a guardian ad litem to represent the interests of the child, S, the absence of an enumerated list of the duties of the guardian ad litem does not prevent us from resolving the issues presented by this case because we conclude that the guardian ad litem supersedes the role of the natural guardian to speak for the child's best interest in the present litigation. In contrast to a guardian of a person who has physical control of the minor or a guardian of an estate who has legal control over the minor's financial affairs, the guardian ad litem is appointed by a court and granted limited powers to represent the interest of the child in a particular court proceeding.”

- In Re Crystal H., Superior Court, Juvenile Matters at Middletown (May 22, 2002) (32 Conn. L. Rptr. 127), 2002 WL 1336088. “The Probate Court ordered removal of the child to a distant state and the placement of the child with a non-parental guardian without his knowledge or consent. The placement of the child in a different school was a direct and necessary consequence. All three of these decisions trample on father's basic guardianship rights and responsibilities.

Guardianship - 10
While the decision may have been in the best interest of the child, the father had no opportunity to consider that question or take a position on it before the Probate Court appointed the temporary guardian and the child was removed to Arizona.

  "'The legislature has set the standard that governs a petition for the removal of a surviving parent as the guardian of his or her children.' Garrett's Appeal from Probate, 237 Conn. 233, 235, 676 A.2d 394 (1996). "The father and mother of every minor child are joint guardians of the person of the minor .... If either father or mother dies ... the other parent of the minor child shall become the sole guardian of the person of the minor.' General Statutes § 45a-606. The court may remove a parent as guardian only if it finds by clear and convincing evidence that one or more of the grounds enumerated in General Statutes § 45a-610 have been proven by clear and convincing evidence." Garrett's Appeal from Probate, 44 Conn. Sup. 169, 171, 677 A.2d 1000 (1994) aff'd, 237 Conn. 233, 676 A.2d 394 (1996). We are aware, however, that '[t]he provisions of sections 45a-603 to 45a-622, inclusive, shall be liberally construed in the best interests of any minor child affected by them, provided the requirements of such sections are otherwise satisfied." General Statutes § 45a-605 (a)."

- Bristol v. Brundage, 24 Conn. App. 402, 405, 589 A.2d 1 (1991). "This statute [§ 46b-56b] was enacted to counteract the holding of McGaffin v. Roberts [below] . . . which held that 45-43 (now 45a-606) did not create a presumption that a surviving parent is entitled to preference in a custody dispute."

- Posey v. Yandell, 26 Conn. Supp. 320, 323, 222 A.2d 747 (1966). "Upon the death of the mother, the plaintiff became the sole guardian of the child Carolyn. It follows that the plaintiff has a prior right to custody unless the circumstances are such that to give it to him would not be for the best interest of the child."

CP09-006773 (Mar. 2, 2010), 2010 Conn. Super. LEXIS 507. “A court may remove a guardian only if it finds that one or more of the grounds set forth in General Statutes § 45a-610 have been established by clear and convincing evidence. In Re Helen B., 50 Conn.App. 818, 827 (1998). The petitioner has not established any one of the grounds set forth in the governing statute . . . Determining the parent of a child . . . cannot be guided solely on the basis of ‘nature,’ but must also be premised on ‘nurture.’ Seymour v. Seymour, 180 Conn. 705, 712 (1980). Not only was Mr. L. the guardian at the time of the commencement of these proceedings, he has been a guardian/father to the child and he intends to continue to be a caring and providing guardian/father to the child. The minimum obligations of a parent or guardian are to demonstrate love and affection for the child; express concern for the child's health, education and general welfare; supply food, clothing, shelter and medical care; and provide guidance in life's activities and choices. In Re Rayna M., 13 Conn.App. 23, 37 (1987). Mr. L. has the ability and the will to fulfill all of these responsibilities, and this court finds that it would be in the child's best interests for his role as guardian to continue.

Such court shall take of such guardian or coguardians a written acceptance of guardianship and, if the court deems it necessary for the protection of the minor, a probate bond." Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-616(a) (2015).
  With only one parent: "If any minor has a parent or guardian, who is the sole guardian of the person of the child, the court of probate for the district in which the minor resides may, on the application of the parent or guardian of such child or of the Commissioner of Children and Families with the consent of such parent or guardian and with regard to a child within the care of the commissioner, appoint one or more persons to serve as coguardians of the child . . . . - Rights and obligations of the guardian or coguardian: “shall be those described in subdivisions (5) and (6) of section 45a-604 and shall be shared with the parent or previously appointed guardian of the person of the minor. - Powers: “A parent of a minor, guardian of the person of a minor or spouse of a minor shall not receive or use any property belonging to the minor in an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars in value unless appointed guardian of the estate of the minor, except that such parent, guardian or spouse may hold property as a custodian under the provisions of sections 45a-557 to 45a-560b, inclusive, without being so appointed.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-631(a) (2015).

- Factors used in choosing: “When appointing a guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian of the person of a minor, the court shall take into consideration the following factors: (1) The ability of the prospective guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian to meet, on a continuing day to day basis, the physical, emotional, moral and educational needs of the minor; (2) the minor’s wishes, if he or she is over the age of twelve or is of sufficient maturity and capable of forming an intelligent preference; (3) the existence or nonexistence of an established relationship between the minor and the prospective guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian; and (4) the best interests of the child. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that appointment of a grandparent or other relative related by blood or marriage as a guardian, coguardian or permanent guardian is in the best interests of the minor child.” Conn. - Disputes: “In the event of a dispute between guardians or between a coguardian and a parent, the matter may be submitted to the court of probate which appointed the guardian or coguardian.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-616(d) (2015).

In Re Haydee W., 2015 WL 6437229. “The mother believes Mr. And Mrs. T. are suitable and worthy guardians and that awarding guardianship to them is in Haydee’s best interest as set forth in her motion to transfer guardianship to Mrs. T. The father also has filed a motion to transfer guardianship to Mrs. T. as an alternative to his motion to revoke. Based upon the foregoing, this court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that Mr. and Mrs. T. are worthy and suitable people to assume legal guardianship of Haydee and having them as her guardians is in Haydee's best interest.”

- In Re Mindy F., 153 Conn. App. 786, 803, 105 A. 3d 351 (2014). “In this case, the court determined that Mindy’s best interests would not be served by the transfer of guardianship to the paternal great aunt because the child ‘ha[d] a safe, secure bond and attachment to her current caregivers, and that her removal from their care would [have been] traumatic….’ Once this finding was made by the court, the father could not prevail on his motion. We conclude that, once it was determined that the transfer was not in Mindy’s best interests, the court was not required to make any further findings, as the denial of the motion to transfer guardianship was required by law.”

- In Re Averiella P., 146 Conn. App. 800, 804-805, 81 A. 3d 272 (2013). “In this case, the court also very clearly stated that ‘while the interests of all others may be considered in making a decision about the child, it is the best interest of the child that controls the decision.’ The court found that Averiella had lived with her grandparents since shortly after she was born, that she ‘has thrived in that environment’ and that the grandparents were ‘open to visits with the parents.’ …It concluded by finding that ‘the transfer of guardianship to [the grandparents] is in the best interest of Averiella…[and that the grandparents] are suitable and worthy caretakers.’”

- Favrow v. Vargas, 231 Conn. 1, 18, 647 A.2d 731 (1994). “A guardian of a minor child has no legal obligation of support for that child. He shall under no circumstances be permitted to reap any personal advantage from the use of the ward’s money or other property, but all the income and profits thereof shall be faithfully accounted for. Appointment of permanent guardian for minor. Reinstatement of parent as guardian or appointment of successor guardian or permanent guardian.

(a) In appointing a guardian of the person of a minor pursuant to section 45a-616 or at any time following such appointment, the Court of Probate may establish a permanent guardianship if the court provides notice to each parent that the parent may not petition for reinstatement as guardian or petition to terminate the permanent guardianship, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, or the court indicates on the record why such notice could not be provided, and the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the establishment of a permanent guardianship is in the best interests of the minor and that the following have been proven by clear and convincing evidence:

(1) One of the grounds for termination of parental rights, as set forth in subparagraphs (A) to (G), inclusive, of subdivision (2) of subsection (g) of section 45a-717 exists, or the parents have voluntarily consented to the appointment of a permanent guardian;

(2) Adoption of the minor is not possible or appropriate;

(3) (A) If the minor is at least twelve years of age, such minor consents to the proposed appointment of a permanent guardian, or (B) if the minor is under twelve years of age, the proposed permanent guardian is a relative or already serving as the permanent guardian of at least one of the minor’s siblings;

(4) The minor has resided with the proposed permanent guardian for at least one year; and

(5) The proposed permanent guardian is suitable and worthy and committed to remaining the permanent guardian and assuming the rights and responsibilities for the minor until the minor reaches the age of majority.

(b) If a permanent guardian appointed under this section becomes unable or unwilling to serve as permanent guardian, the court may appoint a successor guardian or permanent guardian in accordance with this section and sections 45a-616 and 45a-617, or may reinstate a parent of the minor who was previously removed as guardian of the person of the minor if the court finds that the factors that resulted in the removal of the parent as guardian have been resolved satisfactorily, and that it is in the best interests of the child to reinstate the parent as guardian.

Appointment of guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian of the person of a minor.

When appointing a guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian of the person of a minor, the court shall take into consideration the following factors: (1) The ability of the prospective guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian to meet, on a continuing day to day basis, the physical, emotional, moral and educational needs of the minor; (2) the minor's wishes, if he or she is over the age of twelve or is of sufficient maturity and capable of forming an intelligent preference; (3) the existence or nonexistence of an established relationship between the minor and the prospective guardian, coguardian or permanent guardian; and (4) the best interests of the child. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that appointment of a grandparent or other relative related by blood or marriage as a guardian, coguardian or permanent guardian is in the best interests of the minor child.

Commitment of child or youth. Petition for neglected, uncared for or abused child or youth. Hearing re temporary custody, order to appear or petition. Review of permanency plan. Cost of care and maintenance of child or youth; reimbursement. Revocation of commitment. Legal guardianships and permanent legal guardianships. Applicability of provisions re placement of child from another state and Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

(j) (1) For the purposes of this subsection and subsection (k) of this section, “permanent legal guardianship” means a permanent guardianship, as defined in section 45a-604.

(2) Upon finding and adjudging that any child or youth is uncared for, neglected or abused the court may (A) commit such child or youth to the Commissioner of Children and Families, and such commitment shall remain in effect until further order of the court, except that such commitment may be revoked or parental rights terminated at any time by the court; (B) vest such child’s or youth’s legal guardianship in any private or public agency that is permitted by law to care for neglected, uncared for or abused children or youths or with any other person or persons found to be suitable and worthy of such responsibility by the court, including, but not limited to, any relative of such child or youth by blood or marriage; (C) vest such child’s or youth’s permanent legal guardianship in any person or persons found to be suitable and worthy of such responsibility by the court, including, but not limited to, any relative of such child or youth by blood or marriage in accordance with the requirements set forth in subdivision (5) of this subsection; or (D) place the child or youth in the custody of the parent or guardian with protective supervision by the Commissioner of Children and Families subject to conditions established by the court.

(3) If the court determines that the commitment should be revoked and the child’s or youth's legal guardianship or permanent legal guardianship should vest in someone other than the respondent parent, parents or former guardian, or if parental rights are terminated at any time, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that an award of legal guardianship or permanent legal guardianship upon revocation to, or adoption upon termination of parental rights by, any relative who is licensed as a foster parent for such child or youth, or who is, pursuant to an order of the court, the temporary custodian of the child or youth at the time of the revocation or termination, shall be in the best interests of the child or youth and that such relative is a suitable and worthy person to assume legal guardianship or permanent legal guardianship upon revocation or to adopt such child or youth upon termination of parental rights. The presumption may be rebutted by a preponderance of the evidence that an award of legal guardianship or permanent legal guardianship to, or an adoption by, such relative would not be in the child’s or youth’s best interests and such relative is not a suitable and worthy person. The court shall order specific steps that the parent must take to facilitate the return of the child or youth to the custody of such parent.
(4) The commissioner shall be the guardian of such child or youth for the duration of the commitment, provided the child or youth has not reached the age of eighteen years, or until another guardian has been legally appointed, and in like manner, upon such vesting of the care of such child or youth, such other public or private agency or individual shall be the guardian of such child or youth until such child or youth has reached the age of eighteen years or, in the case of a child or youth in full-time attendance in a secondary school, a technical high school, a college or a state-accredited job training program, until such child or youth has reached the age of twenty-one years or until another guardian has been legally appointed. The commissioner may place any child or youth so committed to the commissioner in a suitable foster home or in the home of a person related by blood or marriage to such child or youth or in a licensed child-caring institution or in the care and custody of any accredited, licensed or approved child-caring agency, within or without the state, provided a child shall not be placed outside the state except for good cause and unless the parents or guardian of such child are notified in advance of such placement and given an opportunity to be heard, or in a receiving home maintained and operated by the Commissioner of Children and Families. In placing such child or youth, the commissioner shall, if possible, select a home, agency, institution or person of like religious faith to that of a parent of such child or youth, if such faith is known or may be ascertained by reasonable inquiry, provided such home conforms to the standards of said commissioner and the commissioner shall, when placing siblings, if possible, place such children together. Upon the issuance of an order committing the child or youth to the Commissioner of Children and Families, or not later than sixty days after the issuance of such order, the court shall determine whether the Department of Children and Families made reasonable efforts to keep the child or youth with his or her parents or guardian prior to the issuance of such order and, if such efforts were not made, whether such reasonable efforts were not possible, taking into consideration the child’s or youth’s best interests, including the child’s or youth’s health and safety.

(5) A youth who is committed to the commissioner pursuant to this subsection and has reached eighteen years of age may remain in the care of the commissioner, by consent of the youth and provided the youth has not reached the age of twenty-one years of age, if the youth is (A) enrolled in a full-time approved secondary education program or an approved program leading to an equivalent credential; (B) enrolled full time in an institution which provides postsecondary or vocational education; or (C) participating full time in a program or activity approved by said commissioner that is designed to promote or remove barriers to employment. The commissioner, in his or her discretion, may waive the provision of full-time enrollment or participation based on compelling circumstances. Not more than one hundred twenty days after the youth’s eighteenth birthday, the department shall file a motion in the superior court for juvenile matters that had jurisdiction over the youth’s case prior to the youth’s eighteenth birthday for a determination as to whether continuation in care is in the youth’s best interest and, if so, whether there is an appropriate permanency plan. The court, in its discretion, may hold a hearing on said motion.

(6) Prior to issuing an order for permanent legal guardianship, the court shall provide notice to each parent that the parent may not file a motion to terminate the permanent legal guardianship, or the court shall indicate on the record why such notice could not be provided, and the court shall find by clear and convincing evidence that the permanent legal guardianship is in the best interests of the child or youth and that the following have been proven by clear and convincing evidence:
(A) One of the statutory grounds for termination of parental rights exists, as set forth in subsection (j) of section 17a-112, or the parents have voluntarily consented to the establishment of the permanent legal guardianship;

(B) Adoption of the child or youth is not possible or appropriate;

(C) (i) If the child or youth is as least twelve years of age, such child or youth consents to the proposed permanent legal guardianship, or (ii) if the child is under twelve years of age, the proposed permanent legal guardian is: (I) A relative, or (II) already serving as the permanent legal guardian of at least one of the child’s siblings, if any;

(D) The child or youth has resided with the proposed permanent legal guardian for at least a year; and

(E) The proposed permanent legal guardian is (i) a suitable and worthy person, and (ii) committed to remaining the permanent legal guardian and assuming the right and responsibilities for the child or youth until the child or youth attains the age of majority.

(7) An order of permanent legal guardianship may be reopened and modified and the permanent legal guardian removed upon the filing of a motion with the court, provided it is proven by a fair preponderance of the evidence that the permanent legal guardian is no longer suitable and worthy. A parent may not file a motion to terminate a permanent legal guardianship. If, after a hearing, the court terminates a permanent legal guardianship, the court, in appointing a successor legal guardian or permanent legal guardian for the child or youth shall do so in accordance with this subsection.

Commitment of child or youth. Petition for neglected, uncared for or abused child or youth. Hearing re temporary custody, order to appear or petition. Review of permanency plan. Cost of care and maintenance of child or youth; reimbursement. Revocation of commitment. Legal guardianships and permanent legal guardianships. Applicability of provisions re placement of child from another state and Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children.

(n) If the court has ordered legal guardianship of a child or youth to be vested in a suitable and worthy person pursuant to subsection (j) of this section, the child’s or youth’s parent or former legal guardian may file a motion to reinstate guardianship of the child or youth in such parent or former legal guardian. Upon the filing of such a motion, the court may order the Commissioner of Children and Families to investigate the home conditions and needs of the child or youth and the home conditions of the person seeking reinstatement of guardianship, and to make a recommendation to the court. A party to a motion for reinstatement of guardianship shall not be entitled to court-appointed counsel or representation by Division of Public Defender Services assigned counsel, except as provided in section 46b-136. Upon finding that the cause for the removal of guardianship no longer exists, and that reinstatement is in the best interests of the child or youth, the court may reinstate the guardianship of the parent or the former legal guardian. No such motion may be filed more often than once every six months.

Egan, 265 Conn. 301, 828 A.2d 549 (2003), in which we held that the exception to the doctrine of sovereign immunity for actions by state officers in excess of their statutory authority applies only to actions seeking declaratory or injunctive relief, not to actions for money damages. When a plaintiff brings an action for money damages against the state, he must proceed through the office of the claims commissioner pursuant to chapter 53 of the General Statutes, §§ 4-141 through 4-165. Otherwise, the action must be dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction under the doctrine of sovereign immunity. In the present case, the plaintiffs have not received permission from the office of the claims commissioner to bring their claims for money damages against the state. Therefore, the doctrine of sovereign immunity bars those claims.”</td>

COURT CASES:
  "Joan's Will, dated December of 2014, was admitted to probate in June of 2015. At issue before the Court is the appointment of a guardian of the person of S and I." ... "Characterizing the phrase "it is my wish" as "precatory" would essentially nullify Article VIII of the subject Will. This hyper-technical reading of that Article would be contrary to the clearly expressed intent of the testatrix. It would also be at odds with our strong public policy in favor of encouraging parents to make a testamentary selection of guardians for their children."
- Caron v. Adams, 33 Conn. App. 673, 694, 638 A.2d 1073 (1994). "General Statutes 45a-629 provides that if a minor does not have a guardian of his estate and is entitled to property, the court may appoint the parents or guardian to be guardian of the estate. If any of these are not proper persons, the court may appoint any proper person chosen by the minor, if the minor is over the age of twelve. If the minor does not or cannot choose, or makes an improper choice, 'the court of probate shall appoint some proper person or persons, who, as guardian of the estate of the minor, shall have charge of all the minor's property, whether acquired before or after the guardian's appointment, but shall have no control over his person.' General Statutes 45a-

- Fitzgerald v. Fitzgerald, 169 Conn. 147, 152, 362 A.2d 889 (1975). “The primary duty of the parent to support his minor children, if he is able to do so, is not relieved by the fact that they may have income from a trust created in their favor.”

- Lametta v. Connecticut Light & Power Co., 139 Conn. 218, 220, 92 A.2d 731 (1952). “Under our common law an infant may sue either by next friend or by guardian, if one has been appointed. The powers and responsibilities of each in prosecuting a suit for the infant are the same.”

- Rutkowski v. Connecticut Light & Power Co., 100 Conn. 49, 55, 123 A. 25 (1923). “This claim is based on the assertion that this plaintiff, only five years old, will not be entitled to the sum awarded to her until she shall come of age. There is no legal ground for this assertion. In fact this plaintiff was entitled from the date of the judgment to the immediate possession and enjoyment of the full amount of damages allowed to her, although her rights must be exercised by a guardian of her estate.”

- Williams v. Cleaveland, 76 Conn. 426, 430, 56 A. 850 (1904). “As natural guardian he was entitled to neither the possession nor control of his son’s property, either at common law . . . or by statute . . . .”

Section 7: Testamentary Guardian or Guardian Designated by Parent in Event of Parent’s Death

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:
- Bibliographic resources relating to guardianships of minors in Connecticut

DEFINITION:
- Testamentary guardian: “The parent of an unmarried minor, except a parent who has been removed as guardian of the person of the minor, may by will or other writing signed by the parent and attested by at least two witnesses appoint a person or persons as guardian or coguardians of the person of such minor, as guardian or coguardians of the estate, or both, to serve if the parents who are guardians of the minor are dead. If two or more instruments, whether by will or other writing, contain an appointment, the latest effective appointment made by the last surviving parent has priority. Such appointment shall not supersede the previous appointment of a guardian made by the court of probate having jurisdiction.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-596(a) (2015).

  "All of the foregoing cases speak to a liberty right that has its basis in an ongoing relationship between parent and child. In this case, however, this special relationship no longer exists; what remains is a predeath statement by the parents of strong preference for the future regarding who should be guardians for their children. The Ps do not cite and, indeed, we have not discovered, any authority to support the proposition that this fundamental liberty interest of parents survives the death of the parents, much less that it may be passed to testamentary guardians who have had no previous relationship with the child, other than as neighbors. In the case before us, because this special parent-child relationship no longer exists, this constitutionally protected interest, likewise, no longer exists. Therefore, we are not required to give the same deference.

to a predeath statement of preference as we would were this a decision concerning a child made by a living parent."

- Bristol v. Brundage, 24 Conn. App. 402, 406, 589 A2d 1 (1991). "We hold that 45a-596 (a) should be interpreted as mandating the appointment of the sole surviving parent's testamentary choice of a guardian because it should be presumed that the best interests of the child are served by that appointment. This presumption, like that of 46b-56b, may be rebutted only by a showing that it would be detrimental to the child to permit the named testamentary guardian to serve as such."

Table 4: Parental Appointment of Guardian in Event of Parent’s Death

| (a) | parent of an unmarried minor, except a parent who has been removed as guardian of the person of the minor, may by will or other writing signed by the parent and attested by at least two witnesses appoint a person or persons as guardian or coguardians of the person of such minor, as guardian or coguardians of the estate, or both, to serve if the parents who are guardians of the minor are dead. If two or more instruments, whether by will or other writing, contain an appointment, the latest effective appointment made by the last surviving parent has priority. Such appointment shall not supersede the previous appointment of a guardian made by the court of probate having jurisdiction. |
| (b) | The ward of such a guardian may, when he or she is over the age of twelve, apply to the court of probate in which such ward resides, for the substitution of a guardian or coguardians of the person to supersede the appointed guardian. The court of probate may, upon such application and hearing, substitute the guardian or coguardians chosen by the ward to be the guardian or coguardians of the person of the ward after consideration of the standards set forth in section 45a-617. |
| (c) | A parental appointment becomes effective when the guardian’s written acceptance is filed in the court in which the nominating instrument is probated, or, in the case of a nontestamentary nominating instrument, in the court for the probate district where the minor resides. Any guardian or coguardians appointed pursuant to this section shall receive the appointment subject to the control of the court of probate and subject to the provisions and restrictions to which the last surviving parent, as guardian, was subject at the time of such parent’s decease. If the court deems it necessary for the protection of the minor, a guardian or coguardians of the person shall furnish a probate bond. A guardian or coguardians of the estate shall furnish a probate bond. Upon such acceptance of guardianship or furnishing such bond, the guardian or coguardians shall have the same power over the person and estate of such minor as guardians appointed by the court of probate. |

CASES:

- In Re: The Guardianship of Z., 29 Quinnipiac Prob. L.J. 18 (2015). “Our statutes provide no explicit guidelines to aid the Court in determining what is in the best interest of an intellectually disabled adult when plenary guardianship is contested. Neither party in this matter nor this Court has been able to find a case precisely on point. This category of adults is unique; while they are entitled to the vast majority of civil rights conferred on adults, the reality of their condition requires them to be treated like children in terms of their daily care. Although no one can predict the future with certainty, it is likely that the vast majority of these adults will not change so much as to no longer need a plenary guardian. However, as they age, they may well mature in certain aspects of their life so as to be able to express a preference with respect to what they want to do and with whom they would like to spend their time.”

- In Re Cindy Marie Garcia, 26 Quinnipiac Probate Law Journal 219 (2013). “The first issue presented is the standard to be applied in a case appointing a guardian for an adult. The statute and the case law delineate a simple ‘best interests’ standard. See Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-676(f) (2011) [now 2013]. The Connecticut Supreme Court has held that a respondent’s preference is one factor the court must consider when determining the best interests of the respondent, and the court ‘may also give weight to other factors that bear on the respondent’s ‘best interests’”* Oller v. Oller-Chiang*, 230 Conn. 828, 849, 646 A.2d 822, 833 (1994) (emphasis in original). The court in Oller also acknowledged that, in some cases, it may be difficult to determine a respondent’s preference. As the court explained, “[t]his may be the case, for example, if a respondent cannot understand that he or she may express a preference or cannot effectively communicate that preference.”* Oller v. Oller-Chiang*, 230 Conn. 828, 851, 646 A.2d 822, 834 (1994).

- Carney v. Federal Express Corp., Judicial District of New Haven at New Haven, Docket No. CV02 0467894 (Mar. 3, 2003), 34 Conn. L. Rptr. 270, 2003 WL 1228080, 2003 Conn. Super. LEXIS 619. “Because of the special affinity existing between parent and child, a parent of a mentally retarded adult should enjoy the same legally protected rights and status as the parent of a minor. Thus, a father has sufficient standing as a parent to appeal from a decision of a Probate Court denying him the appointment of the guardianship of his adult daughter who is determined to be incompetent.”

"While the court acknowledges that there is some appeal in recognizing a claim for damages by a parent of a mentally handicapped adult, the court concludes that the wiser judicial policy is not to recognize this type of claim. The cause of action asserted is a form of third-party liability of the defendants. That is, the parent seeks to recover from the defendants, not for tortious harms that the defendants inflicted directly on her, but for financial and emotional harms she alleges to have suffered as a result of the defendants' tortious conduct committed against another with whom she has close relationship, namely, her son.”

- Oller v. Oller-Chiang, 230 Conn. 828, 831-832, 646 A.2d 822 (1994). “More specifically, we address the following principal issues: (1) whether the act requires that the respondent be present at any court hearing concerning the appointment of a guardian; (2) whether the respondent may waive his or her presence and, if so, the necessary requirements for such a waiver; and (3) whether, in determining what is in the best interests of the respondent, the judge must ascertain the respondent's preference as to who should be his or her guardian.”

- Buchholz’s Appeal from Probate, 9 Conn. App. 413, 420, 519 A.2d 615 (1987). “Because of the special affinity existing between parent and child, a parent of a mentally retarded adult should enjoy the same legally protected rights and status as the parent of a minor.”

Section 9: Jurisdiction of the Courts Over Guardianship

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:

- Bibliographic resources relating to the Connecticut court’s jurisdiction over guardianships of minor’s person in Connecticut

DEFINITIONS:

- Transfer of proceeding to Superior Court or regional children’s probate court: “Before a hearing on the merits in any case under sections 45a-603 to 45a-622, inclusive, that is contested, the Court of Probate shall, on motion of any party other than a party who made application for the removal of a parent as a guardian, or may, on the court’s own motion or motion of the party who made application for the removal of a parent as a guardian, transfer the case to the Superior Court in accordance with rules adopted by the judges of the Supreme Court. In addition to the provisions of this section, the Court of Probate may, on the court’s own motion or motion of any interested party, transfer any proceeding under sections 45a-603 to 45a-622, inclusive, to a regional children’s probate court established pursuant to section 45a-8a. If the case is transferred and venue altered, the clerk of the Court of Probate shall transmit to the clerk of the Superior Court or the regional children’s probate court to which the case was transferred, the original files and papers in the case.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 45a-623 (2015).

- Probate Court: "In Connecticut since the earliest colonial days, 'a benign yet arbitrary power, which every sovereignty exercises, to take care of the persons and estates of infants,' has been conferred by statute upon the Courts of Probate . . . . From any decree of the Court of Probate, any person aggrieved may appeal to the Superior Court . . . . The appellate court will take the place of the Court of Probate and try the case de nova, but it has no greater power." Dunham v. Dunham, 97 Conn. 440, 442-443, 117 A. 504 (1922).

- Potter v. Alcorn, 140 Conn. 96, 100, 99 A.2d 97 (1953). “It is, of course, elementary that courts of probate are strictly statutory tribunals . . . . As such, they have only such powers as are either expressly or impliedly conferred upon them by statute.”
- Lewis v. Klingberg, 100 Conn. 201, 204-205, 123 A. 4 (1923). “In acting under statutes conferring jurisdiction, the probate courts have no powers except those which are expressly granted and such other powers as are necessary to the exercise of the jurisdiction expressly conferred.”
- Dunham v. Dunham, 97 Conn. 440, 443, 117 A. 504 (1922). "The jurisdiction and power of the Court of Probate has been long established, has been expressed from time to time in terms adapted to conditions which experience has revealed, is general and ample, and evidently intended to cover the requirements of all circumstances."
White v. Strong, 75 Conn. 308, 312, 53 A. 654 (1902). "The question raised by the complaint, whether the defendant, who was chosen guardian by a minor of lawful age to select his own guardian, was a proper person to be appointed, is one which is by statute exclusively within the original jurisdiction of the probate court and the appellate jurisdiction of the Superior Court. The decree of the Court of Probate, upon the question clearly within its jurisdiction, is conclusive upon the plaintiff, who was a party to the proceeding in that court."

Section 11: Appointment of Guardians
A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:
- Bibliographic resources relating to the appointment of guardians

DEFINITION:
- Appointment of guardian of the person of the minor:
  "In the case of a minor who has no guardian of the person due to the death of his parents, the probate court for the district in which the minor resides may appoint a guardian for the minor on its own initiative. When the court has removed both parents as guardians of the minor's person, it must appoint a successor guardian. If the court removes only one parent as guardian, or if one parent dies, the remaining parent is the sole guardian of the person of the minor.”

    - § 35a-20. Motions for Reinstatement of Parent or Former Legal Guardian as Guardian or Modification of Guardianship Post-Disposition

COURT CASES:

  "All of the foregoing cases speak to a liberty right that has its basis in an ongoing relationship between parent and child. In this case, however, this special relationship no longer exists; what remains is a predeath statement by the parents of strong preference for the future regarding who should be guardians for their children. The Ps do not cite and, indeed, we have not discovered, any authority to support the proposition that this fundamental liberty interest of parents survives the death of the parents, much less that it may be passed to testamentary guardians who have had no previous relationship with the child, other than as neighbors. In the case before us, because this special parent-child relationship no longer exists, this constitutionally protected interest, likewise, no longer exists. Therefore, we are not required to give the same deference to a predeath statement of preference as we would were this a decision concerning a child made by a living parent."

  "Unlike subsection (m) of § 46b–129, neither subsection (j) of § 46b–129 nor Practice Book § 35a–12A provides a presumption of fitness for a parent or former guardian (who may be opposing the motion). See footnote 8 of this opinion. This is because a motion to transfer guardianship is simply dispositional in nature, and does not require the court to review the underlying cause for commitment, which has already been judicially determined during an earlier phase of the proceeding. Compare Practice Book § 35a–12A (a) ("[m]otions to transfer guardianship are dispositional in nature, based on the prior adjudication") with § 46b–129 (m) (requiring court to review cause for commitment and conclude that it no longer exists before revoking commitment of child)."

  "The intent of that body is that a parent may be removed for failure to meet any one of the specified needs of the child," and that in appointing a subsequent guardian, the court must take into consideration the ability of the prospective guardian to meet all of the needs of a child.”

When appointing a guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian of the person of a minor, the court shall take into consideration the following factors:

(1) The ability of the prospective guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian to meet, on a continuing day to day basis, the physical, emotional, moral and educational needs of the minor;

(2) the minor's wishes, if he or she is over the age of twelve or is of sufficient maturity and capable of forming an intelligent preference;

(3) the existence or nonexistence of an established relationship between the minor and the prospective guardian, coguardians or permanent guardian; and

(4) the best interests of the child. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that appointment of a grandparent or other relative related by blood or marriage as a guardian, coguardian or permanent guardian is in the best interests of the minor child.

Connecticut Appellate Court Case

In re Valerie G., 132 Conn.App. 652, 661, 34 A. 3d 398 (2011). “Both the mother and the grandmother have appealed from the judgment of the court denying the grandmother’s motion to transfer guardianship. In support of its judgment denying the motion, the court found that, despite her great love for Valerie, the grandmother lacked a fundamental understanding of, and ability to care properly for, Valerie’s substantial special needs. The grandmother challenges this finding, claiming that the court’s denial of her motion for transfer of guardianship constituted an abuse of discretion.”

COURT CASES:

- In Re Avirex R., 151 Conn. App. 820, 835, 96 A. 3d 662 (2014). “..., [I]t is important to note that a transfer of guardianship pursuant to subsection (j) of § 46b–129 does not terminate the respondent parent's or former guardian's relationship with the child. If a court orders, as it did here, legal guardianship of a child or youth to be vested in a suitable and worthy person pursuant to subsection (j) of § 46b–129, the respondent parents or former guardians of the child or youth are not left without recourse. Pursuant to § 46b–129 (n), the respondent parents or former guardian may file a petition to reinstate guardianship of the child or youth in such parent or legal guardian.”

- In Re Savannah L., Superior Court, Judicial District of Waterbury, Juvenile Matters at Waterbury, Docket No. U06-CP09-006773, 2010 WL 1224871 (Mar. 2, 2010). “A court may remove a guardian only if it finds that one or more of the grounds set forth in General Statutes § 45a–610 have been established by clear and convincing evidence. In Re Helen B., 50 Conn.App. 818, 827 (1998).”

- Potter v. Hiscox, 30 Conn. 508, 520, 1862 WL 708 (1862). "The rendering a correct account to a judge of probate, and having it approved by him, is not all that is required of a guardian. The court of probate does not necessarily find or record the fact that the guardian has delivered the property over to the ward. He adjusts the account, and ascertains the balance or amount of the property left in the guardian's hands. The guardian then delivers this over and takes a discharge from his ward, who being then of full age is competent to give it."
