SCOPE:

Bibliographic sources relating to complaints for dissolution of marriage in Connecticut.

SEE ALSO:

- Dissolution of Marriages in Connecticut
- Child Custody in Connecticut
- Child Visitation in Connecticut

DEFINITION:

- "The paramount role of a court when considering domestic relations cases is one of a 'court of equity.' The court's equity powers are essential to its ability to fashion the appropriate relief in domestic relations cases." LaBow v. LaBow, 13 Conn. App. 330, 351, 537 A.2d 157 (1988).
- "The power to act equitably is the keystone to the court's ability to fashion relief in the infinite variety of circumstances which arise out of the dissolution of a marriage. Without this wide discretion and broad equitable power, the courts in some cases might be unable fairly to resolve the parties' dispute, i.e., Where the sole asset of the parties is their residence to which both have contributed. Equity certainly does not contemplate such a result . . . Equity jurisdiction once obtained will be retained for the purpose of administering complete relief." Pasquariello v. Pasquariello, 168 Conn. 579, 585, 362 A.2d 835, 838 (1975).

Section 2: Motions and Requests (Overview)

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:

Bibliographic resources relating to family motions, requests and motion practice in general in Connecticut.

DEFINITION:

- Motion: "means any application to the court for an order, which application is to be acted upon by the court or any judge thereof . . ." Conn. Practice Book § 11-2 (2018).
- Request: "means any application to the court which shall be granted by the clerk by operation of these rules unless timely objection is filed." Conn. Practice Book § 11-2 (2018).
- Order of Pleadings: "The order of pleadings shall be:
the plaintiff's complaint;
the defendant's motion to dismiss the complaint;
the defendant's motion to strike the complaint or claims for relief;
the defendant's answer, cross complaint and claims for relief;
the plaintiff's motion to strike the defendant's answer, cross complaint, or claims for relief;
the plaintiff's answer." Conn. Practice Book § 25-11 (2018).
- "Every motion, request, application or objection directed to pleading or procedure, unless relating to procedure in the course of a trial, shall be in writing." Conn. Practice Book § 11-1 (2018).
- "Each such motion shall state clearly, in the caption of the motion, whether it is a pendente lite or a postjudgment motion." Conn. Practice Book § 25-24(b) (2018).
- "In addition, Practice Book § 10-3(a) provides in relevant part that, '[w]hen any claim made in a . . . pleading is grounded on a statute, the statute shall be specifically identified by its number.'" Remillard v. Remillard, 297 Conn. 345, 352, 999 A.2d 713, 718 (2010).
- Due Process: "It is a fundamental premise of due process that a court cannot adjudicate a matter until the persons directly concerned have been notified of its pendency and have been given a reasonable opportunity to be heard in sufficient time to prepare their positions on the issues involved." Costello v. Costello, 186 Conn. 773, 776-777, 443 A.2d 1282, 1284 (1982).

Chapter 5. Motions
- Rosenfeld v. Rosenfeld, 115 Conn. App. 570, 577-578, 974 A. 2d 40, 44 (2009). "It is hornbook law that a court's decision whether to grant a motion for a continuance ordinarily is left to the court's discretion."
- Eckert v. Eckert, 285 Conn. 687, 698-699, 941 A. 2d 301, 308 (2008). "Relying on our decision in Ahneman v. Ahneman, 243 Conn. 471, 480, 706 A.2d 960 (1998), the plaintiff contends that the trial court's grant of the defendant's objection without first holding an evidentiary hearing amounted to a refusal to consider her motion for alteration or modification. Ahneman, however, is readily distinguishable from the present case. In that case, the trial court had rendered an oral decision specifically declining to consider the subject motions. Id., at 475, 706 A.2d 960. The trial court in the present case did not so decline consideration of the plaintiff's motion. The court heard argument.... The plaintiff appears to contend, however, that by not allowing her to present evidence, the court functionally refused to consider her motion for modification or alteration. In considering a motion that involves only a question of law and not one of fact, however, a trial court is not obligated to conduct an evidentiary hearing. By allowing the parties to present arguments in support of their respective positions, the court duly considered both the plaintiff's motion and the defendant's objection."

- Ramin v. Ramin, 281 Conn. 324, 338, 915 A.2d 790, 799 (2007). "We also recognized, in Ahneman, however, 'that exceptions to the general rule that a trial court must consider and decide on a reasonably prompt basis all motions properly placed before it may exist in an extreme, compelling situation."
- Ahneman v. Ahneman, 243 Conn. 471, 484, 706 A.2d 960, 966 (1998). "More fundamentally, basic principles of jurisprudence refute the plaintiff's proposition that a trial court has discretion, based on notions of judicial efficiency, to decline to exercise its jurisdiction by refusing to consider certain motions. Courts are in the business of ruling on litigants' contentions . . ."

Section 3: Motion to Dismiss

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:

Bibliographic references relating to the motion to dismiss in a dissolution of marriage proceeding in Connecticut.

DEFINITIONS:

- Grounds: "The motion to dismiss shall be used to assert (1) lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter, (2) lack of jurisdiction over the person, (3) insufficiency of process and (4) insufficiency of service of process." Conn. Practice Book § 25-13(a) (2018).
- "When a motion to dismiss is filed questioning subject matter jurisdiction it must be disposed of before there can be other proceedings . . . Jurisdiction must exist in three particulars: the subject matter of the case, the parties, and the process" Babouder v. Abdennur, 41 Conn. Supp. 258, 259, 566 A.2d 457, 458 (1989).
- "The pendency of a prior action between the same parties is a ground for dismissal for the second action, for reasons of justice and equity and for the further reason that it is duplicative and therefore vexatious . . . . "Ronald LaBow [defendant] filed a motion to strike the petition for failure to state a claim for which relief can be granted, pursuant to Practice Book § 10-39. In ruling on the motion to strike, the court, Moran, J., sua sponte considered whether the court had subject matter jurisdiction over the petition for a new trial. Relying on Summerville v. Warden, 229 Conn. 397, 426, 641 A.2d 1356 (1994), the court concluded that the statute of limitations, General Statutes § 52-582, barred the petition for a new trial and that the court therefore lacked subject matter jurisdiction."

"The plaintiff in this dissolution of marriage action has filed a motion to strike the issue of postjudgment counsel fees from the defendant's brief. The dispositive issue is whether this court's January 27, 1994 dismissal of the defendant's amended appeal, which raised the issue of counsel fees, precludes the defendant from addressing this same issue in his brief on the main appeal."

No objection was filed and the amended complaint is deemed filed by consent of the defendant. The amended complaint alleges adultery as the sole ground for dissolution. It is one of the many causes recited in § 46b-40(c), Conn. Gen. Statutes upon a finding that it occurred. In this case the plaintiff has not proven her allegation of adultery occurring prior to the irretrievable breakdown, Venuti v. Venuti, 185 Conn. 156, 158, 440 A.2d 878 (1991). The defendant filed a cross complaint alleging that the marriage has broken down irretrievably. The plaintiff filed an answer admitting the allegation. - LaCroix v. LaCroix, 189 Conn. 685, 687-688, 457 A.2d 1076, 1078 (1983). “On appeal, the plaintiff’s sole claim is that the trial court was without jurisdiction to award alimony or any part of the proceeds of the sale of real property to the defendant on the basis of the cross complaint. He asserts that General Statutes 46b-67 mandates a twenty-day waiting period after the filing of a cross complaint in a dissolution proceeding before any action may be taken on that cross complaint. He therefore claims that the alimony and property awards are void, because those issues were not raised in his complaint and could not be considered under the cross complaint without violating 46b-67. We agree that 46b-67 by its clear language forbids the consideration of a cross complaint until twenty days after it is filed and, therefore, the court could not make awards based on the defendant’s cross complaint. We cannot agree, however, that the trial court lacked jurisdiction to make the challenged awards. We find no error.”

- Welch v. Welch, Superior Court, Judicial District of Tolland at Rockville, No. FA00-0072505-S (May 17, 2002) (2002 Conn. Super. Lexis 1820) (2002 WL 1332028). "Here the defendant did not seek leave to amend her cross-complaint until after the trial. The plaintiff objects to the allowance of the amendment because it raises a new cause of action not previously alleged. In exercising its discretion in determining whether the court should allow the amendment, the court is guided by the considerations referred to in Antonofsky . . . Lastly, it is not fair to the plaintiff to allow the amendment where he has not been put on notice of it and where its necessity, if any, is caused by the defendant's own failure to prove the grounds alleged in her cross-complaint. The request for leave to amend the cross-complaint is denied."
- Cugini v. Cugini, 13 Conn. App. 632, 636, 538 A.2d 1060, 1062 (1988). "The defendant also claims an abuse of discretion by the trial court in permitting an amendment to the complaint to allege as an additional ground for dissolution that he had been convicted of an infamous crime. This is one of the grounds upon which dissolution may be sought; General Statutes 46b-40(c)(9); and, in any event, it was not the ground upon which dissolution was granted in this case.”

- Rodearmel v. Rodearmel, 173 Conn. 273, 274, 377 A.2d 260, 261-262 (1977). “On the appeal, the defendant briefed six claims of error. Four of these are addressed to discretionary rulings of the court in granting the plaintiff permission to amend his complaint to add a new claim for relief, in assigning the defendant’s interest in the marital residence to the plaintiff, in not awarding a greater amount of alimony and in not awarding to the defendant additional counsel fees. We find no error in any of these rulings as to each of which the trial court has broad discretion.”
- Kelsall v. Kelsall, 139 Conn. 163, 165, 90 A.2d 878, 879 (1952). “An amendment to a complaint relates back to the institution of the action for some purposes; . . . but when it sets up a new and different cause of action it speaks as of the date when it is filed . . . . To be valid, it must state a cause of action which exists at that time. A cause of action must arise from a single group of facts . . . . Acts amounting to intolerable cruelty and acts amounting to desertion do not constitute a single group of facts. They are separate and distinct. An amendment to a complaint for divorce on the ground of intolerable cruelty which sets up desertion in a new count is the statement of a new cause of action.”

DEFINITIONS:

- Petition for a New Trial: "The Superior Court may grant a new trial of any action that may come before it, for misleading, the discovery of new evidence or want of actual notice of the action to any defendant or of a reasonable opportunity to appear and defend, when a just defense in whole or part existed, or the want of actual notice to any plaintiff of the entry of a nonsuit for failure to appear at trial or dismissal for failure to prosecute with reasonable diligence, or for other reasonable cause, according to the usual rules in such cases. Conn. Gen. Stat. § 52-270(a) (2017).
- Motion for New Trial: "Motions. . . for new trials, unless brought by petition served on the adverse party or parties, and motions pursuant to General Statutes 52-225a for reduction of the verdict due to collateral source payments must be filed with the clerk within ten days after the day the verdict is accepted; provided that for good cause the judicial authority may extend this time. - Marshall v. Marshall, 119 Conn. App. 120, 141-142, 988 A. 2d 314, 328 (2010). "The plaintiff does not contend that the defendant cannot satisfy the reasonable cause test for a new trial on the basis of the underlying facts. Instead, she maintains that the petition itself is technically deficient in that it fails to set forth adequately the claim that a new trial is warranted for 'other reasonable cause.' Consequently, the defendant's petition for a new trial, according to the plaintiff, fails to state a cause of action on which relief can be granted. . . .

Upon our careful examination of the petition, construing it in the light most favorable to the defendant, we conclude that a claim for a new trial on the basis of 'other reasonable cause' was sufficiently pleaded."
- Bleidner v. Searles, 19 Conn. App. 76, 78, 561 A.2d 954, 955-956 (1989). "A petition for a new trial is a statutory remedy that is essentially equitable in nature. State v. Grimes, 154 Conn. 314, 325, 228 A.2d 141 (1966). General Statutes 52-270 sets forth the limited circumstances in which a new trial will be granted. The petitioner has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he is entitled to a new trial on the grounds claimed. Johnson v. Henry, 38 Conn. Sup. 718, 719-20, 461 A.2d 1001, cert. denied, 464 U.S. 1011, 104 S.Ct. 533, 78 L.Ed.2d 714 (1983). The petition is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial court. Rizzo v. Pack, 15 Conn. - Corbin v. Corbin, 179 Conn. 622, 626, 427 A.2d 432, 434-435 (1980). “Whether the plaintiff’s motion is treated as a motion to open judgment or as a petition for a new trial is immaterial. The granting or denial of such motions rests in the sound discretion of the trial court, reviewable only in the case of abuse . . . . One of the essential requirements for the granting of either motion is that the evidence which the party seeks to offer could not have been known and with reasonable diligence produced at trial . . . . Since it is undisputed that the evidence the plaintiff sought to introduce was known to him at the time of the trial, the court did not err in denying the plaintiff’s motion.”

- Pass v. Pass, 152 Conn. 508, 511-512, 208 A.2d 753, 755 (1965). “The rules for granting a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence are well established. The evidence must, in fact, be newly discovered, material to the issue on a new trial, such that it could not have been discovered and produced on the former trial by the exercise of due diligence, not merely cumulative and likely to produce a different result.”

Complaint for New Trial

1. The defendant brought an action against the plaintiff for breach of contract to this court, in which action a trial was thereafter had to the jury, upon issue joined on the answer of this plaintiff, and a verdict was rendered against this plaintiff for $ _____ damages, which verdict was accepted by the court, and judgment rendered thereon on _____

2. At the trial it became and was a material question whether (here state the particular point in dispute to which the newly discovered evidence relates).

3. Exhibit A, annexed, is a correct statement of all the evidence relevant to the issue produced by the defendant at the trial.

4. Exhibit B, annexed, is a correct statement of all the evidence relevant to the issue produced by this plaintiff at the trial.

5. Since the trial, this plaintiff has discovered material evidence in his favor, which evidence he failed to discover, and was unable to discover, before or during the trial, although he used all reasonable diligence in endeavoring to find testimony in his favor.

6. Said newly discovered evidence is the following, to wit:

(set out the names and residences of witnesses, and the substance of what they will testify; also any newly discovered documentary evidence).

7. The verdict and judgment against the plaintiff are unjust.

The plaintiff claims, that the former verdict and judgment be set aside, and that he be allowed a new trial of the cause.
