Cariglio v. Dept. of Social Services (See Freese v. Dept. of Social Services)	64
Freese v. Dept. of Social Services	64
Administrative appeals; appeals to trial court, pursuant to statute (§ 4-183 [a]), from decisions of defendant Department of Social Services denying applications for Medicaid benefits filed by plaintiffs on behalf of their mothers, both of whom died before defendant rendered final decisions in underlying administrative proceedings; whether trial court improperly dismissed appeals and determined that because plaintiffs' decedents died before they brought appeals and because plaintiffs did not bring appeals as executors or administrators of decedents' estates, plaintiffs lacked standing; whether trial court improperly denied requests to cure jurisdictional defect by substituting plaintiffs, in capacities as estate fiduciaries, as plaintiffs in administrative appeals pursuant to remedial savings statute (§ 52-109); claim that plaintiffs had standing pursuant to state regulations (§ 17b-10-1) to assert decedents' rights in representative capacities; whether state regulations could diminish standing requirements set forth in enabling statutes; whether, pursuant to enabling statute (§ 17b-61 [b]), person who applied for fair hearing may appeal from decision to Superior Court provided that person is aggrieved; whether plaintiffs failed to plead facts establishing aggravement; whether plaintiffs failed to allege facts establishing standing to appeal under right of survival statute (§ 52-599); whether trial court improperly granted motions to dismiss instead of giving plaintiffs opportunity to cure jurisdictional defect by allowing substitution; whether trial court improperly denied substitution on ground that plaintiffs' administrative appeals were not legally cognizable actions capable of being cured by §§ 52-109 or 52-599 because they were commenced by parties without authorization to sue and, consequently, were nullities; failure of trial court to determine whether failure of plaintiffs in each case to bring actions in capacities as fiduciaries of decedents' estates was due to error, misunderstanding or misconception as required for substitution under § 52-109.
Rockhill v. Danbury Hospital	39
Negligence; claim that trial court erroneously found that defect in crosswalk that caused plaintiff's injuries was reasonably foreseeable hazard; whether court reasonably found that defect in crosswalk was actual cause of plaintiff's fall; whether court's finding that all of plaintiff's medical costs were substantially caused by fall was supported by record and was not clearly erroneous; whether court abused discretion in denying defendant's motion to preclude certain expert testimony by one of plaintiff's treating physicians.
State v. Steele	1
Robbery in first degree; conspiracy to commit robbery in first degree; conspiracy to commit larceny in third degree; whether evidence was sufficient to support conviction of robbery in first degree as principal; whether trial court improperly admitted lay testimony from witness concerning historic cell site analysis by not requiring witness to be qualified as expert; whether admission of lay testimony was harmless beyond reasonable doubt; cumulative evidence; whether conviction of and sentences on conspiracy to commit robbery and conspiracy to commit larceny charges, which arose out of single agreement to rob bank, violated defendant's right against double jeopardy.
