American Institute for Neuro-Integrative Development, Inc. v. Town Plan & Zoning Commission	332
Zoning; application for special exception; claim that trial court erred when it concluded that special exception application was properly denied; whether defendant zoning commission improperly concluded that plaintiff had not satisfied certain traffic related requirements under town zoning regulations; whether commission's ground for denial of special exception application was reasonably supported by substantial evidence in record; whether commission's reason for denial of application—that plaintiff did not demonstrate that proposed offices for charitable institutions would be nonprofit entities—was based on speculation and not supported by substantial evidence.
Anderson v. Malloy (Memorandum Decision)	909
Aronow v. Freedom of Information Commission	842
Administrative appeal; request for documents pursuant to Freedom of Information Act (§ 1-200 et seq.); claim that trial court erred in granting defendant Freedom of Information Commission's motion to dismiss claim that plaintiff was aggrieved by commission's decision not to impose civil penalty against plaintiff's former employer; whether there was evidence in record to support contention that case was distinguishable from Burton v. Freedom of Information Commission (161 Conn. App. 654); whether plaintiff's argument that Burton was distinguishable had any evidentiary foundation; claim that trial court improperly dismissed plaintiff's claim that 2014 complaint was improperly dismissed on ground that plaintiff was not aggrieved because issues raised in 2014 complaint were addressed in 2015 complaint; whether record indicated that commission took relevant facts of 2014 complaint into consideration when making its decision that plaintiff's former employer had violated act; whether plaintiff demonstrated aggravement; claim that trial court erred in concluding that there was substantial evidence in record to support commission's finding that plaintiff had narrowed scope of request under act.
Bank of America, N.A. v. Grogins	477
Foreclosure; default for failure to disclose defense; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying motion to open judgment of strict foreclosure; whether defendants established good cause to open judgment that was not based wholly on merits of judgment of strict foreclosure; whether trial court improperly considered defendants' negligence in determining whether there was good cause to open judgment; whether statute (§ 49-15) governing opening of judgments of strict foreclosure required defendants to demonstrate that they were prevented from making their defenses by mistake, accident, or other reasonable cause.
Bank of America, N.A. v. Linkasamy (Memorandum Decision)	904
Barbadosa v. Board of Education	427
Employment discrimination; whether trial court properly granted motion for summary judgment; claim that defendant discriminated against plaintiff on basis of her disability and failed to provide her with reasonable accommodation in violation of statute (§ 46a-60 [b]); whether trial court properly determined that there was no genuine issue of material fact that attendance was essential function of plaintiff's job as school paraprofessional; whether trial court properly determined that request for intermittent extended leave of absence was not reasonable accommodation because it would have eliminated essential job function it purported to address, exacerbated plaintiff's attendance issues and undermined her ability to maintain regular attendance.
Benistar Employer Services Trust Co. v. Benincasa	304
Application to vacate arbitration award; motion to confirm arbitration award; whether arbitration award was timely issued; whether arbitrator reasonably determined closing date of hearing; whether arbitration award was predicated on manifest disregard of law; whether arbitration award was not mutual, final

and definite; whether arbitration award was in violation of public policy; whether arbitrator reasonably believed that he was prolonging hearings with consent of parties; claim that arbitrator's conclusion that contract existed demonstrated manifest disregard of law; claim that arbitrator ignored well settled contract law and improperly concluded that contract existed despite lack of elements necessary for contract; whether appellate court can review evidence or otherwise second-guess arbitrator's factual determination where arbitration submission was unrestricted; claim that arbitration award should have been vacated because it was not mutual, final and definite; whether fact that arbitrator retained jurisdiction of matter for sole purpose of interpreting award or resolving any potential disputes arising from final effectuation of ruling undermined finality of award; whether arbitrator's conclusion that transfer of life insurance policies created tax liability that would not have otherwise been imposed violated explicit, well-defined and dominant public policy of this state.
Benjamin v. Commissioner of Correction (Memorandum Decision)		905
Boyle v. Apple Hill Homeowners Assn., Inc. (Memorandum Decision).		905
Bozelko v. Statewide Construction, Inc.		469
Quiet title; whether trial court's finding that there was break in plaintiff's chain of title and, thus, that plaintiff had no right, title or interest in disputed parcel was clearly erroneous; credibility of witnesses; whether plaintiff could challenge court's finding that defendants owned parcel where plaintiff failed to establish that he had title to parcel.
Bree v. Commissioner of Correction		411
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly denied petition for writ of habeas corpus; claim that trial counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to present testimony from audio-video forensics expert to challenge reliability of closed-circuit television surveillance video that was used to identify petitioner in robbery of convenience store; claim that trial counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to object to testimony by petitioner's accomplice that identified petitioner's photograph in police photographic array; claim that trial counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to present testimony of petitioner's step-father.
Brewer v. Commissioner of Correction.		556
Habeas corpus; murder; criminal possession of firearm; claim that first habeas counsel was ineffective in failing to claim that trial counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to consult with forensic pathology expert; claim that first habeas counsel was ineffective in failing to object to admission of prior inconsistent statements from two witnesses; whether, after consulting with expert criminalist, trial counsel was required to search for another expert to perform crime scene reconstruction; whether jury had before it same evidence that would have been revealed by expert forensic pathologist; whether trial counsel's decision not to object to admission of statements was reasonable strategic decision.
Burg v. Northeast Specialty Corp. (Memorandum Decision).		904
Buxenbaum v. Jones		790
Dissolution of marriage; claim that trial court failed to consider best interests of minor children in deciding custody; claim that trial court predetermined issue before close of evidence; whether trial court's input of data into worksheet before close of evidence evinced premature determination of issues; claim that trial court abused its discretion in failing to consider and rely on defendant's earning capacity when it issued its financial orders; whether plaintiff's claim that defendant should have been ordered to pay alimony and child support based on earning capacity was consistent with position taken at trial; whether trial court is required to base its financial orders on parties' earning capacities; claim that trial court lacked evidentiary support for its findings on court prepared worksheet as to defendant's net weekly income; whether permitting plaintiff to challenge trial court's financial orders after plaintiff asked court to rely on calculation of that income and court entered orders plaintiff requested amounted to sanctioning trial by ambush.
Cancel v. Commissioner of Correction		667
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly denied petition for writ of habeas corpus; whether habeas court erred in concluding that petitioner was not prejudiced by trial counsel's failure to litigate whether two underlying criminal cases should have been joined for trial; whether habeas court erred in concluding that petitioner was not prejudiced by trial counsel's failure to object to police detective's opinion testimony that minor child was victim of sexual assault; whether habeas court properly concluded that trial counsel did not render deficient performance by deciding not to present testimony from expert in forensic psychology regarding suggestive influence that may have been present in forensic interview of child victim of sexual assault; claim that petitioner's presentence investigation interview with probation officer was critical stage of criminal proceedings; claim that absence of trial counsel from petitioner's presentence investigation interview with probation officer constituted complete denial of sixth amendment right to effective assistance of counsel; claim that habeas court should have applied presumption of prejudice under United States v. Cronin (466 U.S. 648) because of trial counsel's absence from petitioner's presentence investigation interview with probation officer.

Carl P. v. Dept. of Children & Families (Memorandum Decision) 908

Cohen v. King 85

Defamation; fraud; absolute immunity; litigation privilege; motion to dismiss; claim that trial court improperly concluded that doctrine of litigation privilege barred action against defendant attorney based on allegedly defamatory and false statements made by defendant in answer to grievance complaint filed by plaintiff against defendant; whether trial court properly concluded that litigation privilege extends absolute immunity to statements made to attorney disciplinary authority by attorney who was subject of grievance complaint; claim that litigation privilege did not apply because complaint pleads facts suggesting that defendant abused judicial process and breached professional duty of candor.

Cohen v. Statewide Grievance Committee 643

Attorney discipline; appeal to trial court from decision of reviewing committee of defendant Statewide Grievance Committee imposing sanctions and reprimanding plaintiff for violating rules 3.3 (a) (1) and 8.4 (3) of Rules of Professional Conduct; whether disciplinary counsel violated plaintiff's due process rights by refusing to conduct investigation into allegations of misconduct against plaintiff; whether disciplinary counsel violated plaintiff's due process rights by failing to produce any witnesses other than plaintiff at hearing before reviewing committee; whether trial court improperly inferred attorney-client relationship between plaintiff and Probate Court; whether trial court properly applied rule 3.3 of Rules of Professional Conduct to attorney functioning in fiduciary role; whether trial court properly upheld reviewing committee's determination that entry in amended final account filed by plaintiff constituted knowingly false statement to Probate Court in violation of rule 3.3 (a) (1) of Rules of Professional Conduct and was dishonest in violation of rule 8.4 (3) of Rules of Professional Conduct.

Commissioner of Transportation v. Lagosz 828

Eminent domain; appeal to trial court from assessment of damages by Commissioner of Transportation for taking by condemnation of defendant's real property; claim that trial court, following hearing pursuant to Audubon Parking Associates Ltd. Partnership v. Barclay & Stubbs, Inc. (225 Conn. 804), improperly enforced purported settlement agreement because agreement was not inclusive of essential terms of agreement; whether relocation expenses for business of defendant's husband concerned essential term of settlement agreement; claim that trial court's finding that enforceable settlement agreement was entered into was clearly erroneous.

Connecticut Light & Power Co. v. Wolf (Memorandum Decision) 903

Countrywide Home Loans Servicing, LP v. Pires (Memorandum Decision) 903

Cyganovich v. Cyganovich 164

Dissolution of marriage; appeal from judgment of trial court resolving postjudgment motions of parties; whether trial court, in granting motion for modification of child support, improperly calculated defendant's modified child support obligation; whether defendant was entitled to modified child support in amount calculated according to formula applicable to split custody arrangement where parties had shared custody of child; whether record supported contention that parties spend equal amounts of money to support child.

Deutsche Bank National Trust Co. v. Siladi (Memorandum Decision) 902

Dennis v. Commissioner of Correction 608

Habeas corpus; ineffective assistance of counsel; whether petitioner's appeal was moot; whether habeas court abused its discretion in denying petition for certification to appeal; whether habeas court improperly concluded that petitioner failed to establish that trial counsel provided ineffective assistance by failing to request stay of execution of certain sentence, which resulted in petitioner's loss of sixteen days of presentence incarceration credits; whether there was reasonable strategic

	reason for trial counsel not to request stay of execution after sentence had been imposed; whether trial counsel's failure to request stay of execution constituted deficient performance; claim that petitioner was prejudiced by trial counsel's deficient performance in failing to request stay of execution.
Dicker v. Dicker		247
	Dissolution of marriage; motion for contempt; claim that trial court erred in finding that plaintiff had violated its medical reimbursement order and in finding, on that basis, that she owed defendant certain unpaid unreimbursed medical expenses; whether trial court erred in finding that defendant's accounting summaries as to amounts he had paid for medical expenses of parties' children were credible; claim that defendant's medical expense summaries were unsubstantiated and irreconcilable with record; whether trial court erred in its method of calculation of amounts that parties owed to each other; claim that trial court abused its discretion in denying motion for contempt; whether trial court's finding that defendant was not in contempt for withholding from plaintiff certain payment he owed for children's extracurricular activities was supported by record; whether trial court abused its discretion by permitting defendant unilaterally to deduct undisputed unpaid unreimbursed medical expenses owed by plaintiff from future payments defendant owed to plaintiff for children's extracurricular activities; whether trial court's remedial order was manifestly unreasonable; claim that trial court abused its discretion in denying motion to reargue; whether trial court correctly concluded that plaintiff had ample opportunity to submit any relevant evidence prior to final hearing on parties' motions but chose not to do so; claim that trial court violated plaintiff's due process right to be heard when it denied her motion for contempt before she had rested her case-in-chief; whether it was within discretion of trial court to deny plaintiff's claim for contempt where there was adequate factual basis to explain defendant's failure to honor prior court orders.
Fleming v. Middletown (Memorandum Decision)		906
Francis v. Board of Pardons & Paroles (Memorandum Decision)		906
Garden Homes Profit Sharing Trust, L.P. v. Cyr.		75
	Summary process; nonjoinder of party; whether trial court had authority to raise, sua sponte, issue of nonjoinder of necessary party in absence of motion to strike filed by defendant; whether trial court improperly rendered judgment in favor of defendant on basis of nonjoinder without giving plaintiff opportunity to add necessary party to action in violation of relevant statute (§ 52-108) and rules of practice (§§ 9-19 and 10-44).
Gilman v. Shames		736
	Bystander emotional distress; whether trial court erroneously concluded that plaintiff's bystander emotional distress claim directed to defendant physician in physician's individual capacity was barred by statutory (§ 4-165) immunity; claim that facts pleaded in operative complaint were sufficient to demonstrate that physician's conduct was reckless and, thus, that physician was not protected by statutory immunity; whether trial court erroneously concluded that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction over bystander emotional distress claim directed to state; whether trial court properly determined that bystander emotional distress claim was derivative in nature and could not be raised in absence of predicate wrongful death action commenced by decedent's estate; claim that trial court erred in dismissing plaintiff's bystander emotional distress claim directed to state on ground that failure to join decedent's estate in present action deprived court of subject matter jurisdiction.
Harris v. Commissioner of Correction (Memorandum Decision)		903
Harvey v. Dept. of Correction		93
	Wrongful death; sovereign immunity; claim that trial court improperly granted motion to dismiss action for lack of subject matter jurisdiction; whether action was time barred pursuant to statute (§ 4-160 [d]) that requires plaintiff who has been granted authorization to sue state by Claims Commissioner to bring action within one year from date authorization was granted; claim that action was not untimely because applicable statute of limitations (§ 52-555) for wrongful death action, which permits action to be brought within two years from date of decedent's death, had not expired and is not limited by § 4-160 (d); whether plaintiff was required to comply with both one year limitation period provided in § 4-160 (d) and statute of limitations for wrongful death action set forth in § 52-555; claim that action was timely because limitation period prescribed in § 4-160 (d) was extended by statute (§ 52-594).

Holbrook v. Commissioner of Correction 108
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly denied petition for writ of habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly determined that petitioner failed to prove that prior habeas counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to pursue claim that trial counsel had been ineffective; claim that trial counsel's decision not to call witness constituted deficient performance; claim that prosecution suppressed favorable evidence when it delayed making plea offer to eyewitness until after eyewitness testified in petitioner's criminal trial.

Ibrahim v. Chapdelaine (Memorandum Decision) 901

Ion Bank v. J.C.C. Custom Homes, LLC 30
Replevin; action by way of replevin to recover certain collateral in defendants' possession; claim that trial court improperly granted defendants' motion to dismiss because amended complaint filed by plaintiff cured any defect regarding plaintiff's standing; claim that plaintiff properly substituted proper party as plaintiff by operation of law by filing amended complaint in compliance with relevant rule of practice (§ 10-59); whether plaintiff was required to file motion for permission to substitute proper party as plaintiff; whether trial court abused its discretion in declining to treat amended complaint as motion to substitute parties; claim that plaintiff, as assignor of note, had standing to maintain replevin action on behalf of its assignee.

Kaminski v. Alexander (Memorandum Decision) 907

Kudia v. Malik (Memorandum Decision) 905

LaBorne v. LaBorne 353
Dissolution of marriage; appeal from judgment of trial court issuing postjudgment financial orders; whether trial court erred in failing to use value of defendant's pension as of date of dissolution; whether there was exceptional intervening circumstance that justified trial court's decision not to value pension at time of dissolution; whether wilful dissipation of assets by defendant constituted exceptional intervening circumstance; whether trial court improperly based alimony orders on parties' gross income; reviewability of claim that trial court erred in concluding that defendant was permitted to withdraw funds from retirement account for purpose of paying alimony.

Leon v. Commissioner of Correction 512
Habeas corpus; claim that trial counsel's concession of petitioner's guilt during closing argument to jury violated petitioner's sixth amendment right to client autonomy; whether habeas court properly determined that petitioner was not deprived of right to effective assistance of counsel; whether habeas court properly determined that test set forth in Strickland v. Washington (466 U.S. 668) to determine whether petitioner received ineffective assistance of counsel was applicable and not exception under United States v. Cronin (466 U.S. 648) that relieves habeas petitioner of having to demonstrate prejudice when counsel entirely fails to function as advocate and does not subject state's case to meaningful adversarial testing; claim that habeas court improperly concluded that petitioner was not prejudiced by trial counsel's statements to jury; claim that reasonable probability existed that result of trial would have been different had counsel not made challenged comments to jury.

Levine v. Hite 281
Personal injury; whether plaintiff's due process rights were violated when trial court reconsidered, sua sponte, ruling of prior trial court and permitted defendants to engage in further discovery; whether trial court abused its discretion in rendering judgment of nonsuit against plaintiff for failing to comply with three previous court orders concerning discovery; whether trial court abused its discretion when it ruled on defendants' motion for judgment of nonsuit prior to considering plaintiff's motion for order of sanctions against defendants' counsel.

Liberty Transportation, Inc. v. Massachusetts Bay Ins. Co. 595
Contracts; whether trial court properly granted motion to dismiss; whether trial court properly determined that plaintiff lacked standing to bring claims for lost rental income and for damages because plaintiff had sold property to third party and assigned rights to insurance proceeds to third party pursuant to terms of real estate purchase agreement; claim that plaintiff retained interest in damaged rental units as result of decision to exercise leaseback provision in real estate purchase agreement; adoption of trial court's memorandum of decision as proper statement of facts and applicable law on issues.

Lively v. Commissioner of Correction (Memorandum Decision)	901
Malpeso v. Malpeso	486
Dissolution of marriage; claim that trial court erroneously determined that defendant's payment of children's college expenses constituted substantial change in circumstances warranting modification of alimony where parties' separation agreement required defendant to pay college expenses and contained no express provision permitting modification of alimony on basis of defendant's payment of those expenses; claim that trial court failed to consider entirety of parties' financial circumstances in granting motions to modify; whether trial court erroneously found that defendant continued to suffer from cellulitis at time of proceedings on remand; whether trial court improperly engaged in speculation by considering defendant's risk of developing future medical conditions; claim that trial court erred in prohibiting plaintiff from offering testimony that was relevant to court's determination regarding whether to modify defendant's alimony obligations retroactively; claim that trial court, by sustaining objection of defendant's counsel to question directed to plaintiff concerning effect of defendant's contemptuous conduct, improperly denied plaintiff opportunity to testify about consequences of defendant's contemptuous conduct; claim that trial court erred in modifying defendant's alimony obligations retroactively because defendant had unclean hands.
Margarita O. v. Fernando I.	448
Application for relief from abuse; restraining order; whether trial court abused its discretion in granting application for relief from abuse and issuing restraining order against defendant; whether there was sufficient evidence to support finding that defendant had subjected plaintiff to pattern of threatening; whether trial court reasonably could have concluded that defendant's written threatening communications constituted pattern of threatening; whether trial court's additional order of protection was clearly erroneous; whether there was evidence in record to support trial court's additional order.
Marino v. Statewide Grievance Committee.	7
Attorney discipline; appeal to trial court from decision of reviewing committee of defendant Statewide Grievance Committee finding that plaintiff violated rule 4.4 (a) of Rules of Professional Conduct; whether trial court's decision that defendant properly concluded that plaintiff violated rule 4.4 (a) was based on clear and convincing evidence; whether there was clear and convincing proof that plaintiff filed motion for habeas corpus for no substantial purpose other than to embarrass or burden complainant; whether there is statutory authority or rule of practice that requires attorney to contact court or to check judicial website prior to filing motion for habeas corpus; whether motion for habeas corpus may properly be requested when party is served with subpoena duces tecum and fails to appear for scheduled deposition; whether rule 4.4 (a) imposes additional obligations on attorney when dealing with self-represented party.
Maurice v. Chester Housing Associates Ltd. Partnership.	754
Negligence; slip and fall; motion for sanctions; claim that trial court abused its discretion in precluding expert witness from testifying as expert in field of snow removal; whether witness' testimony demonstrated that knowledge of snow removal was insubstantial and tangential to real expertise in building codes and ordinances; claim that trial court abused its discretion in declining to render default judgment against defendant on basis of misconduct of defendant's general and managing partner against plaintiff's attorney; whether trial court had wide discretion to impose sanction that it deemed appropriate under circumstances.
McKiernan v. Civil Service Commission	50
Declaratory judgment; action seeking declaratory judgment that plaintiff be allowed to retake oral assessment portion of certain police detective promotional examination; claim that trial court erred by rendering judgment in favor of defendants on basis of its finding that oral assessment was administered in accordance with requirements of city charter; whether trial court's finding that test administrators provided plaintiff with all necessary test materials for oral assessment was clearly erroneous; whether trial court's finding that supervising test administrator's description of procedures followed during examination was corroborated by other witnesses was clearly erroneous; claim that trial court erred in concluding that examination was administered in reasonable manner even though test administrators failed to take any steps to provide plaintiff with allegedly missing test materials; whether oral assessment was given in compliance with requirements of city charter despite lack of system to keep track of test materials; claim that examination was unreasonable and arbitrary because it was not administered in uniform manner; claim that instructions given to test participants on video in assessment room were different from those set forth in documents given in preparation room.

Mensah v. Mensah (Memorandum Decision) 907

Merkel v. Hill. 779

Child custody and visitation; motion to modify orders of custody and visitation concerning parties' minor child that had been issued in connection with foreign judgment of dissolution; motion to modify parental access plan; whether trial court violated defendant's procedural due process rights when it modified order relating to custody of minor child without providing parties with notice and meaningful opportunity to be heard on that issue; whether trial court abused its discretion when it adopted stale and outdated parental access plan recommendations in comprehensive evaluation report prepared one year earlier by family relations counselor.

Milford v. Hicks (Memorandum Decision) 908

Miller v. Maurer 769

Interpleader; action to determine rights to proceeds from legal settlement; whether trial court improperly determined plaintiff was entitled to 15 percent of settlement proceeds; whether plaintiff had standing to challenge trial court's allocation of remainder of settlement proceeds between defendants.

Morrison v. Wallace (Memorandum Decision). 907

Mountain v. Mountain. 228

Dissolution of marriage; whether trial court erred in denying postjudgment motion for modification of unallocated alimony and child support obligation; whether trial court erred in finding that there had been no substantial change in circumstances to support modification of unallocated alimony and child support obligation; reviewability of claim that trial court erred in finding that plaintiff failed to prove that he was no longer able to meet financial obligations to defendant by borrowing money from his current wife.

Nahlawi v. Nahlawi 825

Dissolution of marriage; whether trial court improperly entered final child custody and visitation order in dissolution judgment that referenced pendente lite parenting plan that had been superseded by subsequent pendente lite parenting plan that parties and different trial court had intended would become final order of court; reviewability of claims that trial court improperly awarded periodic alimony and ordered transfer of certain real property; failure to brief claims adequately.

Natasha B. v. Dept. of Children & Families 398

Administrative appeal; appeal from decision of hearing officer of defendant Department of Children and Families, who upheld department's decision to substantiate allegations of physical abuse, physical neglect, and emotional neglect by plaintiff against minor child and to place plaintiff's name on its child abuse and neglect central registry; whether trial court properly concluded that finding of chronicity was not required to place plaintiff's name on child abuse and neglect central registry; claim that, because hearing officer made explicit finding that there was no chronicity, plaintiff's name could not be placed on child abuse and neglect central registry; whether trial court erred in concluding that hearing officer did not improperly shift burden of proof to plaintiff when hearing officer scheduled second hearing date so that parties could present evidence regarding whether plaintiff had demonstrated changed conditions that would justify removal of her name from child abuse and neglect central registry.

Nova Benefit Plans, LLC v. Mortgages Unlimited, Inc. 329

Arbitration; appeal from judgment of trial court denying application to vacate and confirming arbitration award in favor of defendants; claim that trial court improperly confirmed arbitration award that was predicated on prior related arbitration award, which plaintiffs claimed constituted manifest disregard of law.

PMC Property Group, Inc. v. Public Utilities Regulatory Authority. 268

Administrative appeal; appeal from trial court's judgment affirming in part decision of defendant Public Utilities Regulatory Authority, which found that plaintiffs had engaged in unauthorized submetering of electricity and imposed sanctions; claim that trial court erred in deferring to authority's definition of electric submetering because authority previously had not established what constitutes electric submetering and, thus, its definition was not time-tested; whether trial court properly determined that, due to technical nature of definition, it was appropriate to defer to authority's definition of submetering; claim that trial court erred in concluding that heating and air conditioning system fell within authority's definition of submetering because definition of submetering in authority's previous decision was applicable only to submetering in context of public gas utilities and, thus, was not applicable to electric submetering; claim that fundamental component of electric submetering is furnishing of electric service by nonutility such that electric service is physical delivery through wires of electricity to end user for consumption, combined with measuring electric consumption with electric submeter.

Praisner v. State 540

Indemnification; subject matter jurisdiction; sovereign immunity; action pursuant to statute ([Rev. to 2013] § 53-39a) for indemnification from defendant state for economic losses that plaintiff allegedly incurred as result of federal criminal action filed against him in his capacity as member of certain special police force for state university; whether trial court improperly concluded that action was not barred by doctrine of sovereign immunity; whether trial court incorrectly determined that plaintiff, as member of state university's special police force, was authorized to bring action pursuant to § 53-39a, which expressly authorizes members of certain classes of individuals, including members of local police departments, to bring action against state under § 53-39a; whether plaintiff established reasonable basis on which to conclude that his claim for indemnification fell within narrow scope of waiver of sovereign immunity contained in § 53-39a.

Premier Capital, LLC v. Shaw 1

Standing; action to enforce judgment; whether trial court lacked subject matter jurisdiction due to plaintiff's lack of standing; whether designation of wrong entity as plaintiff was scrivener's error; whether trial court should have dismissed case rather than deciding it on merits.

Riddick v. Dept. of Correction (Memorandum Decision). 906

Saint Francis Hospital & Medical Center v. Malley 68

Default judgment; default for failure to appear; claim that rendering of default judgment was improper and constituted plain error; whether it was improper to enter default against defendant for failure to appear where defendant's counsel was present in court; whether consequences of court's error were so grievous as to be fundamentally unfair or manifestly unjust; whether unwarranted rendering of default judgment against defendant was likely to undermine public confidence in judiciary.

Scalora v. Scalora 703

Dissolution of marriage; postjudgment orders; motion for contempt; cross appeal; claim that trial court abused its discretion in rejecting defenses of laches, equitable estoppel, and waiver without first fully considering elements of each; whether trial court improperly took judicial notice of reasonable cost of university meal plan and monthly clothing allowance for college student; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying motion for order seeking credit toward claimed arrearages for one half of cost of wedding of parties' daughter; whether trial court abused its discretion in finding defendant in contempt for failing to maintain life insurance policy at his own expense in accordance with parties' settlement agreement; reviewability of claim that trial court abused its discretion by establishing payment schedule on arrearage without first obtaining evidence regarding defendant's financial circumstances; claim that trial court abused its discretion in declining to award defendant attorney's fees in connection with motion for contempt; reviewability of inadequately briefed claims that trial court abused its discretion in declining to award plaintiff attorney's fees in connection with her motion for contempt and challenging trial court's interpretation of certain provision of parties' separation agreement.

Seale v. GeoQuest, Inc. 587

Negligence; whether trial court's finding that defendant did not breach duty of care to plaintiff was clearly erroneous; credibility of witnesses.

Silano v. Cooney 235

Defamation per se; libel per se; slander per se; whether trial court properly rendered judgment in favor of defendant business owner on plaintiff's claims of slander per se and libel per se; claim that trial court applied law incorrectly when it concluded that harassment in second degree in violation of statute (§ 53a-183) did not involve moral turpitude; whether trial court's finding that business owner's statements to police were not defamatory because they were true was clearly erroneous.

Simpson v. Lee (Memorandum Decision) 901

State v. Bischoff 119

Possession of narcotics; possession of less than four ounces of cannabis-type substance; motion to correct illegal sentence; claim that 2015 amendment of statute applicable to possession of narcotics (§ 21a-279 [a]) applied retroactively and entitled defendant to resentencing on conviction of possession of narcotics; whether this court is bound by precedent from our Supreme Court; whether trial court should have rendered judgment denying rather than dismissing motion to correct illegal sentence.

State v. Euclides L. 151

Risk of injury to child; claim that trial court improperly failed to instruct jury that it should acquit defendant if it concluded that his use of force in caring for his daughter was accident; whether trial court's charge to jury was legally correct and adequately instructed jury on issue of accident; whether separate accident charge was required; whether trial court's general intent instruction adequately addressed issue of accident.

State v. Grasso 186

Manlaughter in first degree with firearm; whether state failed to disprove beyond reasonable doubt claim that defendant acted in self-defense when she shot victim; whether evidence supported finding that defendant's use of deadly physical force was premature; unpreserved claim that defendant's rights to due process and to effective assistance of counsel were violated when trial court denied jury's request to rehear closing arguments of prosecutor and defense counsel; claim that defendant waived claim when defense counsel failed to object to court's proposed response to request of jury and affirmatively stated that he did not object to it.

State v. Mukhtaar 144

Murder; motion to correct illegal sentence; whether court properly concluded that it lacked jurisdiction to consider issues raised in motion to correct illegal sentence; whether claims raised by defendant in motion to correct addressed pretrial proceedings and criminal trial and did not attack sentencing proceeding itself.

Sutera v. Natiello 631

Negligence; res ipsa loquitur; premises liability; whether general verdict rule precluded review of claim that trial court committed harmful error by giving jury instruction on doctrine of res ipsa loquitur; claim that jury's verdict was improperly influenced by sympathy for plaintiff and that its finding of comparative negligence was compromise verdict.

Taing v. CAMRAC, LLC 23

Employment discrimination; pregnancy discrimination; whether trial court properly granted motion for summary judgment in favor of defendant; claim that genuine issue of material fact existed as to whether defendant's proffered reason for terminating plaintiff's employment was pretextual.

U.S. Bank, National Assn. v. Conrad (Memorandum Decision) 908

U.S. Bank National Assn. v. Rago (Memorandum Decision) 902

Vazzano v. Reveron (Memorandum Decision) 902

Wachovia Mortgage, FSB v. Toczek 812

Foreclosure; motions to dismiss appeal; automatic appellate stay; motion to terminate appellate stay; motion to reset law days; motion for review; motion for reconsideration; whether trial court's order resetting law days should be summarily reversed as being in contravention of appellate stay; RAL Management, Inc. v. Valley View Associates (278 Conn. 672) discussed; whether trial court violated appellate stay when it reset law days during period when defendant's motion for reconsideration of this court's denial of relief requested in motion for review was still pending.

Watson v. Zoning Board of Appeals. 367

Zoning; application for permission to conduct customary home occupation from home office within residence; claim that trial court erred in concluding that plaintiff needed to prove home occupation was customary in addition to establishing compliance with specific standards set forth in town building zone regulations; claim that trial court erred in concluding that zoning board of appeals acted reasonably in denying plaintiff's application simply because home occupation was part of larger business that took place off-site.

Williams v. State	172
Negligence; claim that trial court framed issue of case too narrowly and improperly failed to consider all instances of negligence alleged in complaint; reviewability of claim that trial court improperly failed to consider certain statutes, state highway safety regulations, and standards in ruling on complaint.
Wilmington Trust Co. v. Bachelder (Memorandum Decision)	904
Winthrop v. Winthrop	576
Dissolution of marriage; motion for contempt; whether trial court properly found that defendant's earned income in 2016 was amount reflected on his W-2 form and, thus, that he owed additional alimony pursuant to parties' separation agreement; claim that defendant, as financial advisor who did not receive salary or hourly wage from his employer but was compensated purely on commission basis, was for all practical purposes self-employed and, thus, his earned income should be his gross compensation minus his business related expenses, and not figure shown on his W-2 form; claim that inclusion of defendant's noncash earnings in his earned income was improper; whether trial court incorrectly calculated defendant's additional alimony payments.
Yuille v. Parnoff	124
Conversion; statutory theft; alleged misappropriation of funds held in escrow pending resolution of parties' dispute over attorney's fees; claim that trial court abused its discretion by ordering defendant to commence trial after allowing his attorney to withdraw, without affording him time to obtain new counsel; claim that verdict in favor of plaintiff on counts of conversion and statutory theft was irreconcilably inconsistent with verdict in favor defendant on count alleging breach of fiduciary duty; claim that trial court improperly declined to submit special defense of waiver to jury.
