| Asnat Realty, LLC v. United Illuminating Co. | 313 |
| Fraudulent nondisclosure; unjust enrichment; motion to strike; claim that trial court erred in striking counts of complaint alleging fraud; whether trial court properly concluded complaint contained broad allegations that were insufficient to satisfy pleading requirements for fraud; whether complaint failed to allege, with requisite specificity, that defendants' alleged fraud was done to induce plaintiffs to act to their detriment; whether complaint failed to allege that defendants had duty of full and fair disclosure of known facts to plaintiffs as it pertained to property. | |
| Atlantic St. Heritage Associates, LLC v. Bologna | 163 |
| Summary process; motion to open; motion to terminate appellate stay; motion for review; whether case was controlled by Young v. Young (249 Conn. 482); whether defendant timely filed appeal within five day statutory (§ 47a-35) appeal period; whether, pursuant to § 47a-35 (b), execution of judgment of possession was stayed; whether new five day appeal period arose when notice of trial court's decision denying motion to open issued. | |
| Connecticut Housing Finance Authority v. McCarthy. | 330 |
| Foreclosure; motion to open judgment of strict foreclosure; petition for reinclusion in foreclosure mediation program; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying defendant's motion to open and vacate judgment of strict foreclosure or extend law day; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying defendant's petition for reinclusion in foreclosure mediation program. | |
| Conroy v. Idlibi | 265 |
| Dissolution of marriage; motion to open; fraud; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying defendant's motion to open judgment. | |
| Couloute v. Board of Education | 120 |
| Personal injury; whether trial court properly granted defendants' motion for summary judgment on ground that plaintiffs' action was barred by doctrine of res judicata; adoption of trial court's memorandum of decision as proper statement of facts, issues and applicable law. | |
| Cunningham v. Cunningham | 366 |
| Dissolution of marriage; domestic relations order; claim that trial court improperly modified property distribution set forth in dissolution judgment by requiring plaintiff to assign portion of joint survivor annuity to third party; claim that trial court's postjudgment order constituted impermissible modification of dissolution judgment because it required plaintiff to share in cost of joint survivor annuity election; claim that trial court improperly ordered that both parties would share equally in any future reductions in defendant's pension benefit; whether issue of future reductions in defendant's pension benefit was ripe for adjudication; whether trial court improperly modified dissolution judgment by adopting formula that could result in reduction of plaintiff's pension benefit. | |
| DeGumbia v. Geico General Ins. Co. (Memorandum Decision) | 901 |
| Disturco v. Gates in New Canaan, LLC | 526 |
| Negligence; whether trial court erred by concluding that defendant failed to satisfy reasonable cause provision of statute (§ 52-212) in its motion to open judgment of default after failure to appear; whether trial court abused its discretion by reaffirming, without scheduling hearing, denial of defendant's motion to open after granting defendant's motion to reargue. | |
| Dobie v. New Haven | 583 |
| Negligence; defective highway statute (§ 13a-149); motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction; whether court properly denied defendant's posttrial motion to dismiss, which was predicated on plaintiff's alleged failure to comply with notice requirements of § 13a-149. | |
| Eichler v. Healthy Mom, LLC | 504 |
| Breach of contract; whether trial court properly rendered judgment for defendant on its special defense of waiver in breach of contract action; adoption of trial | |

| | court's memorandum of decision as proper statement of facts, issues and applicable law. | |
| Elder v. 21st Century Media Newspaper, LLC | Defamation; motion for summary judgment; fair report privilege; claim that evidence supporting defendants' motions for summary judgment was improperly authenticated and, therefore, insufficient; claim that fair report privilege was inapplicable because defendants failed to demonstrate actual reliance on government document; claim that newspaper articles were not accurate and complete or fair abridgments of government document or proceeding; claim that defendants failed to submit evidence to rebut claims of malice, entitling plaintiff to trial on merits; claim that fair report privilege was inconsistent with rights under Connecticut constitution. | 414 |
| First Niagara Bank, N.A. v. Pouncey | Foreclosure; motion for summary judgment as to liability; motion to open; motion to reargue and reconsider; whether trial court erred in denying defendants' motion to reargue and reconsider trial court's denial of their motion to open summary judgment. | 433 |
| Garcia v. Cohen | Negligence; premises liability; whether trial court erred by failing to instruct jury on nondelegable duty doctrine; whether trial court's instructions to jury and failure to give requested jury charge constituted harmful error. | 25 |
| Hlinka v. Michaels | Summary process; claim that trial court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over action; whether record reflected that joint owners of premises were unanimous in desire that defendant be evicted from premises; whether trial court improperly struck, sua sponte, defendant's special defense of laches. | 537 |
| Jimenez v. Commissioner of Correction (Memorandum Decision) | | 901 |
| Kobza v. Commissioner of Correction | Habeas corpus; whether habeas court abused its discretion in denying petitioner certification to appeal from dismissal of habeas petition; whether habeas court erred as matter of law when it dismissed habeas petition for lack of jurisdiction without prior notice to petitioner and opportunity to be heard; whether habeas court improperly concluded that it lacked jurisdiction because no cognizable liberty interest existed in prison employment or job credits that have not been applied to petitioner's sentence; claim by respondent Commissioner of Correction that dismissal of habeas petition was proper because certain timesheet constituted undisputed evidence that petitioner's job credits were never earned. | 547 |
| Lance W. v. Commissioner of Correction | Murder; arson in first degree; tampering with physical evidence; risk of injury to child; whether habeas court erred in concluding that decision by petitioner's first habeas appellate counsel not to pursue actual innocence claim did not constitute ineffective assistance; claim that petitioner is actually innocent of crimes of which he was convicted due to unreliability of scientific evidence at his criminal trial; claim that petitioner's first habeas appellate counsel rendered ineffective assistance in having failed to challenge first habeas court's rejection of petitioner's assertion that his right to due process was violated because his conviction was based on false and invalid scientific evidence; claim that petitioner's first habeas appellate counsel rendered ineffective assistance in deciding not to pursue claim that trial counsel was ineffective in challenging testimony of state's expert witnesses that pertained to cause of fire and victim's death. | 346 |
| Lebron v. Commissioner of Correction | Habeas corpus; claim of ineffective assistance of habeas counsel; whether habeas court improperly rejected petitioner's ineffective assistance of habeas counsel claim because petitioner failed to establish that he would not have pleaded guilty but for trial counsel's alleged deficient performance. | 44 |
| Lemma v. York & Chapel, Corp. | Arbitration; whether trial court lacked subject matter jurisdiction because summons and complaint were not served and returned to court as required by statute (§ 52-278j); whether trial court erred in confirming arbitration award; adoption of trial court's memorandum of decision as correct statement of facts and applicable law on issues. | 471 |
| Nandabalan v. tive record to support hearing officer's finding that plaintiff refused to take breath test.

Pollard v. Bridgeport 187
Negligence; public nuisance; summary judgment; whether trial court erred in determining that there was no genuine issue of material fact as to whether plaintiff set forth valid claims of negligence or nuisance of abutting landowner; whether trial court erred in granting defendant's motion for summary judgment; claim that abutting landowner had duty to maintain and repair sidewalk; claim that growth of tree on abutting landowner's property constituted affirmative act of landowner in creating nuisance.

Property Tax Management, LLC v. Worldwide Properties, LLC 520
Breach of contract; claim that trial court erred in not finding that plaintiff had engaged in, or otherwise induced, unauthorized practice of law by hiring attorney to pursue tax appeals and in maintaining exclusive control over tax litigation; whether contract between parties was consistent with public policy considerations; whether contract authorized illegal or unauthorized practice of law.

Rice v. Commissioner of Correction 513
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court abused its discretion in denying petition for certification to appeal; claim that habeas court erred in rejecting claim that petitioner's ignorance of time constraints in applicable statute (§ 52-470 (d)) constituted good cause for delay in filing habeas petition; whether petitioner's testimony that he was unaware of statutory deadlines overcomes rebuttable presumption of unreasonable delay; credibility determinations.

Robinson v. Commissioner of Correction 560
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly denied petition for writ of habeas corpus; claim that state violated petitioner's right to due process pursuant to Brady v. Maryland (373 U.S. 83) when it failed to disclose to him material information concerning alleged bank fraud scheme that could have led to discovery of further evidence; claim that habeas court improperly declined to consider effect of proffered evidence in conjunction with adverse inference from witness' invocation of privilege against self-incrimination; claim that prior habeas counsel rendered ineffective assistance by failing to advance Brady claim in prior habeas proceeding.

Smernoff v. Star Tire & Wheel. 577
Breach of contract; damages; whether trial court erred in awarding certain direct and consequential damages to plaintiffs; whether plaintiffs presented sufficient evidence for trial court to fairly and reasonably estimate their expenses.

| | 573) should be overruled on the basis that they contravene plain language of § 14-227a (g). | |
| State v. Luciano | Assault in second degree; conspiracy to commit assault in first degree; claim that there was insufficient evidence to support defendant's conviction of conspiracy to commit assault in first degree; claim that there was insufficient evidence to support defendant's conviction of assault in second degree. | 388 |
| State v. Marsala | Violation of conditional discharge; whether appeal from judgment revoking conditional discharge was rendered moot when defendant failed to challenge all bases for trial court's decision. | 571 |
| State v. Oscar H. | Murder; attempt to commit murder; assault in first degree; risk of injury to child; whether trial court properly determined that witness was unavailable to testify at trial pursuant to former testimony exception to rule against hearsay in applicable provision (§ 8-6 (1)) of Connecticut Code of Evidence; whether state made sufficient efforts to establish witness' unavailability to testify at trial; claim that admission into evidence of transcript of unavailable witness' deposition violated defendant's rights to confrontation and due process; unpreserved claim that conviction of attempt to commit murder and assault in first degree violated constitutional prohibition against double jeopardy. | 207 |
| State v. Siler | Possession of narcotics with intent to sell; criminal possession of firearm; whether trial court properly denied motion to suppress certain evidence; assertion that this court should overrule Supreme Court's decision in State v. Barton (219 Conn. 529) that adopted totality of circumstances test for determining probable cause under article first, § 7, of Connecticut constitution; claim that police affidavit in support of application for search warrant did not establish probable cause because it lacked necessary nexus between defendant's residence and criminal activity alleged in warrant application. | 171 |
| State v. Thorne | Wilful failure to pay sales tax; claim that there was insufficient evidence to support defendant's conviction of wilful failure to pay sales tax; unpreserved claim that trial court's jury instruction substantially misled jury, diluted state's burden of proof and weakened defendant's presumption of innocence; waiver of claim; whether reversal of conviction was warranted pursuant to plain error doctrine. | 249 |
| Stone Key Group, LLC v. Taradash | Breach of contract; whether trial court properly rendered judgment for plaintiff employer on its claim for breach of contract; whether trial court properly granted plaintiff's motion for attorney's fees; adoption of trial court's memoranda of decision as proper statements of facts and applicable law. | 55 |
