Cooke v. Williams . . . . .	151
Legal malpractice; fraud; ripeness; subject matter jurisdiction; whether claim that defendants provided deficient representation with respect to plaintiff's prior habeas corpus action was ripe for adjudication when plaintiff remained validly incarcerated and his conviction has never been invalidated; whether claim alleging fraudulent and improper fee practices by defendants was ripe for adjudication.
Cruz v. Commissioner of Correction . . . . .	17
Habeas corpus; whether habeas court erred in concluding that counsel's allegedly deficient representation during plea negotiations was not prejudicial; whether habeas court erred in determining that petitioner failed to prove his claim of ineffective assistance with respect to his counsel's representation during his sentencing proceedings; claim that petitioner was entitled to presumption of prejudice pursuant to United States v. Cronin (466 U.S. 648) and Davis v. Commissioner of Correction (319 Conn. 548) with respect to his ineffective assistance of counsel claim.
In re Naomi W. . . . .	138
Child neglect; whether respondent mother's constitutional right to direct health care decisions and religious upbringing of minor child was violated by order of trial court that permitted child to undergo nonemergency surgical procedure despite mother's objection on religious grounds; whether appeal was rendered moot when, during pendency of appeal, child underwent surgical procedure; whether mother's moot claim qualified for review under capable of repetition yet evading review exception to mootness doctrine.
Mecartney v. Mecartney . . . . .	243
Dissolution of marriage; postjudgment motion for contempt; whether trial court erred in its interpretation of its previous order; whether trial court exceeded its

	equitable authority in imposing certain conditions in subsequent order to protect integrity of its earlier judgment.
Monts v. Board of Education . . . . .		106
	Disability discrimination; claim that trial court erred by failing to charge jury on plaintiff's claim of interference with Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (29 U.S.C. § 2601 et seq.); claim that trial court erred by admitting letter prepared by plaintiff's coworker into evidence under business records exception to hearsay rule; claim that trial court erred by refusing to admit into evidence certain medical records of plaintiff.
Nikola v. 2938 Fairfield, LLC . . . . .		178
	Foreclosure; motion for deficiency judgment; claim that trial court incorrectly concluded that it was not barred by doctrine of res judicata from determining amount of deficiency judgment; claim that certain findings from Probate Court as to amount of deficiency barred further litigation; whether trial court properly included in deficiency judgment certain tax liens paid by plaintiff.
Onthank v. Onthank . . . . .		54
	Breach of contract; whether trial court properly concluded that plaintiff substantially complied with notice of default provision of promissory note; claim that trial court erred in its calculation of damages awarded to plaintiff.

State v. Gordon . . . . .		70
	Larceny of elderly person by embezzlement in second degree; claim that trial court improperly admitted into evidence testimonial hearsay statement of victim in violation of defendant's constitutional right to confrontation; claim that defendant was deprived of due process rights when prosecutor engaged in prosecutorial impropriety by making substantive use of testimonial hearsay statement in closing rebuttal argument; whether witness' testimony regarding victim's statement constituted hearsay; whether defendant was harmed by admission of witness' testimony regarding victim's statement; whether this court needed to reach merits of defendant's prosecutorial impropriety claim.
State v. Green . . . . .		253
	Assault in first degree; whether this court had subject matter jurisdiction to review merits of trial court's dismissal of defendant's postsentencing motion to withdraw his guilty plea; whether defendant's appeal of dismissal of postsentencing motion to withdraw his guilty plea was justiciable; whether this court should have invoked its supervisory authority pursuant to applicable rule of practice (§ 60-2) to treat appeal of dismissal of postsentencing motion to withdraw defendant's guilty plea as authorized late appeal of his judgment of conviction.
State v. Lane . . . . .		1
	Assault in first degree; whether trial court abused its discretion in denying motion to disqualify trial judge; claim that this court should revisit precedent set by State v. Milner (325 Conn. 1) and require recusal of judicial authority when there is appearance of partiality, in absence of actual partiality; whether trial court abused its discretion in admitting photographs of victim's injuries into evidence; claim that photographs of victim's injuries were irrelevant and unduly prejudicial.
State v. Marshall . . . . .		209
	Motion to correct illegal sentence; claim that trial court erred in concluding that defendant was properly sentenced as persistent serious felony offender pursuant to (Rev. to 2007 § 53a-40 (j)); claim that trial court erred in concluding that defendant waived right to jury trial on public interest determination and that he was not required to admit that extended incarceration would best serve public interest; whether trial court properly rejected claims regarding defendant's right to probable cause hearing and revocation of parole because they did not attack defendant's sentence.
Stevenson v. Commissioner of Correction . . . . .		275
	Habeas corpus; whether habeas court properly dismissed petition for writ of habeas corpus pursuant to rule of practice (§ 23-29 (2)); whether habeas court failed to follow procedure outlined in Gilchrist v. Commissioner of Correction (334 Conn. 548); whether it was appropriate for this court to remand case to habeas court with direction to decline to issue writ of habeas corpus; whether habeas petition was amenable to declination under relevant rule of practice (§ 23-24 (a)); claim that petitioner's state constitutional claim was procedurally defaulted because habeas petition was not proper procedural mechanism to pursue that claim.

Swanson v. Perez-Swanson. . . . . 266
