STATE OF CONNECTICUT v. CHRISTOPHER
M. SPRING

The defendant's petition for certification to appeal from the Appellate Court, 186 Conn. App. 197 (AC 39628), is granted, limited to the following issues:

"1. Did the Appellate Court properly uphold the trial court's determination that the state met its burden of proving that the defendant's statement obtained during a custodial interrogation, which was not recorded in accordance with General Statutes § 54-1o, was nonetheless admissible pursuant to the provisions of General Statutes § 54-1o (h)?

“2. Should this court exercise its supervisory authority over the administration of justice to require that, when a custodial interrogation subject to the provisions of General Statutes § 54-1o, is not recorded in accordance with that statute, a jury be instructed that it may consider the noncompliance with the recording requirement in determining the weight to accord a statement that is the product of the unrecorded custodial interrogation?”

ROBINSON, C. J., did not participate in the consideration of or decision on this petition.

Timothy H. Everett, assigned counsel, in support of the petition.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT v. DARIUS ARMADORE

The defendant's petition for certification to appeal from the Appellate Court, 186 Conn. App. 140 (AC 40481), is granted, limited to the following issues:

"1. Did the Appellate Court properly deny the defendant's motion to file a late motion for rectification and the defendant's motion for permission to file a supplemental brief, which would have allowed the defendant to present an issue before the Appellate Court that the defendant claims is controlled by the retroactive application of Carpenter v. United States, U.S. , 138 S. Ct. 2206, 201 L. Ed. 2d 507 (2018)?"

"2. Did the Appellate Court properly decline to review the defendant's evidentiary claim on the basis that it was not properly preserved?"

ROBINSON, C. J., did not participate in the consideration of or decision on this petition.

Matthew C. Eagan, assigned counsel, and Emily Graner Sexton, assigned counsel, in support of the petition.
