AGW Sono Partners, LLC v. Downtown Soho, LLC Breach of commercial lease agreement; unjust enrichment; damages; claim that trial court incorrectly concluded that defendants had failed to establish, by preponderance of evidence, that their breach of contract was excused by doctrines of impossibility and frustration of purpose, in light of certain executive orders issued by governor that limited various commercial activities at bar and restaurants throughout the state during public health and civil preparedness emergencies that governor declared in response to COVID-19 pandemic; whether executive orders restricting operations of defendants' restaurant rendered performance of lease agreement impossible as matter of law; whether shutdown and restrictions compelled by executive orders frustrated purpose of lease agreement; claim that trial court improperly assigned plaintiff lessor, as nonbreaching party, burden of proving that it had mitigated its damages in attempting to lease premises to new lessee; whether lessor or lessee bears burden of proving that lessor failed to undertake commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate its damages when lessee breached lease agreement. Aurora Loan Services, LLC v. Gabriel (Order) Baker v. Argueta (Order) Bank of America, National Assn. v. Sorrentino (Order) Bank of New York Mellon v. Horsey (Order) Barlow v. Commissioner of Correction Habeas corpus; ineffective assistance of counsel; whether habeas court correctly determined that petitioner had met his burden of establishing prejudice; whether, but for trial counsel's deficient performance during pretrial plea negotiations, there was a reasonable probability that petitioner would have accepted trial court's plea offer; claim that habeas court improperly relied on earlier decision by Appellate Court that trial court's performance was deficient; whether there was sufficient contemporaneous evidence from time of underlying plea negotiations to substantiate petitioner's after-the-fact testimony that he would have accepted plea offer if he had been adequately advised. Bernblum v. Grove Collaborative, LLC (Order) Birkhold v. Birkhold Postdissolution motion for modification of alimony; postdissolution motion for contempt; claim that trial court incorrectly interpreted parties' separation agreement and found that money plaintiff received from work as commercial real estate broker in form of draws on future commissions constituted income that was subject to plaintiff's alimony obligation; whether money plaintiff earned from real estate company that he worked for and from other consulting work, which ultimately was deposited into bank account in name of limited liability company created by plaintiff, constituted plaintiff's personal income that was subject to his alimony obligation; whether trial court abused its discretion in modifying plaintiff's alimony obligation; whether trial court abused its discretion in finding plaintiff in contempt for breaching his alimony obligation to defendant. Bova v. Commissioner of Correction (Order) Byrne v. Avery Center for Obstetrics & Gynecology, P.C. (Order) Buelher v. Buelher (Order) Centerplan Construction Co., LLC v. Hartford Contract for construction of baseball stadium; breach of contract; counterclaim for breach of contract and breach of covenant of good faith and fair dealing; whether plaintiff developer waived its right to contest errors by defendant city that occurred prior to execution of term sheet; whether city maintained control of and responsibility for stadium design and architectural firm's work from time that city contracted with plaintiffs until time that city assigned to plaintiffs its agreement with architectural firm; whether language in city's assignment of its agreement with architectural firm to plaintiffs plainly and unambiguously	309 911 901 912 909 347 925 786 928 933 917 368
--	---

provided that plaintiffs had legal control of and responsibility for architectural firm and stadium design upon execution of that assignment until term sheet was executed; whether assignment's plain and unambiguous language established that city retained all obligations as to architectural firm arising out of architectural firm's services before assignment was executed; whether term sheet was unclear as to whether city or plaintiffs had control of architectural firm and stadium design after execution of term sheet until time that city terminated its contractual relationship with plaintiffs; whether term sheet unambiguously divested plaintiff builder of right, in its agreement with developer, to notice and opportunity to cure any default prior to termination.

In re Aisjaha N.	642
Motion for permanent legal guardianship; respondent mother's appeal from decision of trial court vesting permanent legal guardianship of minor child in her maternal grandmother after remote hearing on motion; reviewability of respondent mother's unreserved claim that she was denied due process of law under fourteenth amendment to United States constitution by virtue of trial court's failure to ensure that she was present by two-way video technology at remote hearing; respondent mother's invitation for this court to exercise its supervisory authority over administration of justice to adopt rule requiring that trial court, before conducting virtual hearing or trial in child protection case, ensure that parties either appear by two-way videoconferencing technology or waive right to do so, after brief canvass.
In re Amias I.	816
Termination of parental rights; unreserved claim that minor children had constitutional right to conflict free representation and that trial court violated that right by failing to inquire into whether children's attorney had conflict of interest concerning children's competing goals regarding reunification with respondent parents; whether trial court's failure to conduct inquiry into attorney's alleged conflict of interest was harmless beyond reasonable doubt; whether trial court's failure to inquire into attorney's alleged conflict of interest was structural error subject to automatic reversal; whether reversal under plain error doctrine was warranted.
In re Annessa J.	642
Termination of parental rights; trial on petition to terminate parental rights held remotely via Microsoft Teams; motions for posttermination visitation; certification from Appellate Court; whether Appellate Court correctly concluded that respondent mother had failed to establish that she had fundamental right under article first, § 10, and article fifth, § 1, of Connecticut constitution to in person courtroom trial on petition to terminate her parental rights; whether Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that record was inadequate to review respondent mother's unreserved claim that she was denied right to physically confront witnesses against her at virtual termination of parental rights trial, in violation of due process clause of fourteenth amendment to United States constitution; whether Appellate Court improperly expanded standard set forth in this court's decision in In re Ava W. (336 Conn. 545) for deciding motions for posttermination visitation and improperly reversed trial court's rulings on respondents' motions for posttermination visitation on ground that trial court had failed to comply with that standard.

State v. Hargett	604
Murder; certification from Appellate Court; whether Appellate Court correctly concluded that trial court had not abused its discretion in excluding certain testimony as irrelevant and inadmissible hearsay and in excluding from evidence certain toxicology report indicating that murder victim had drugs in his system at time of his death; claim that Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that trial court had not violated defendant's right to due process by declining to give jury instruction on self-defense; whether Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that trial court had not abused its discretion in declining to dismiss case or to exclude alleged murder weapon from evidence as sanction for state's late disclosure of that evidence.
State v. Jones (Order).	901
State v. Kyle A. (Order).	930
State v. Marrero	468
Home invasion; burglary first degree; assault second degree; certification from Appellate Court; claim that Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that prosecutor did not engage in prosecutorial impropriety by using leading questions during his direct examination of hostile witness; certification improvidently granted.
State v. Morel-Vargas	247
Sexual assault first degree; unpreserved claim that defendant's conviction must be reversed on ground that defendant did not personally inform trial court that he was waiving his right to testify; whether trial court was constitutionally required to obtain on-the-record waiver of right to testify from defendant, himself; whether right to testify is personal constitutional right that can be waived only by defendant himself and not by defense counsel acting on behalf of defendant; whether

	right to testify is among personal constitutional rights that require affirmative waiver on record by criminal defendant, himself; exercise of supervisory authority over administration of justice to require, prospectively, that trial court either canvass defendant or, in certain circumstances, inquire of defense counsel whether counsel adequately advised defendant regarding waiver of right to testify; reviewability of claim that prosecutor committed improprieties during her direct examination of victim by virtue of prosecutor's allegedly excessive use of leading questions, in violation of defendant's right to fair trial.
State v. Myers		447
	Motion to correct illegal sentence; whether trial court properly dismissed in part and denied in part motions to correct illegal sentence filed by defendant, who was serving two distinct total effective sentences of eighteen years and fourteen years imprisonment for offenses he committed when he was under eighteen years of age; whether trial court properly dismissed claims that defendant was entitled to resentencing at which sentencing court would consider hallmark features of adolescence as mitigating factors pursuant to Miller v. Alabama (567 U.S. 460) and its progeny, and statute (§ 54-91g); claim that Board of Pardons and Paroles incorrectly determined defendant's parole eligibility date by basing its calculations on his shorter sentence, which resulted in later eligibility date; claim that board's incorrect parole eligibility calculation violated defendant's rights to due process and equal protection; whether trial court properly denied claim that board's calculation of parole eligibility date violated defendant's right to due process; improper form of judgment.
State v. Ortiz		566
	Murder; prosecutorial impropriety; claim that defendant was deprived of his due process right to fair trial as result of prosecutorial impropriety during prosecutor's rebuttal argument; claim that trial court improperly precluded defense counsel from impeaching state's witnesses with evidence of certain prior felony convictions and improperly required defense counsel to refer to state witness' prior convictions only as unnamed felonies punishable by more than one year of imprisonment; claim that trial court improperly declined to give requested instruction; whether trial court improperly omitted word "conclusively" in its instruction on use of evidence of defendant's uncharged misconduct.
State v. Police		274
	Robbery first degree; assault first degree; conditional plea of nolo contendere; claim that trial court improperly denied defendant's motion to dismiss information; whether John Doe arrest warrant that identified suspect on basis of general physical description and mixed partial DNA profiles violated particularity requirement of fourth amendment to United States constitution; whether John Doe arrest warrant served to toll applicable statute of limitations; whether record was adequate for review of defendant's unpreserved claim that John Doe arrest warrant identifying suspect through mixed partial DNA profiles violated particularity requirement of fourth amendment; whether trial court properly relied on subsequent DNA reports in determining that prior DNA report, which police had relied on to establish probable cause for John Doe arrest warrant, identified suspect with particularity.
State v. Prudhomme (Order)		902
State v. Rivera		745
	Murder; conspiracy to commit assault first degree; unlawful restraint first degree; unlawful discharge of firearm; carrying pistol or revolver without permit; certification from Appellate Court; whether Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that trial court had not abused its discretion in admitting into evidence DVD containing audio recording of defendant's alleged confession; claim that audio recording was inadequately authenticated and, therefore, was inadmissible under Connecticut Code of Evidence (§ 9-1); claim that unavailability of original recording rendered subsequent electronic copies of that recording inadmissible under best evidence rule; claim that Appellate Court incorrectly concluded that trial court had not abused its discretion when it directed jury to disregard portions of defense counsel's closing argument concerning prosecutor's failure to ask certain witness for in-court identification of defendant; whether any error on part of trial court was harmless.
State v. Schlosser (Order)		923
State v. Siler (Order)		912
State v. Stephanie U. (Orders)		903, 904
State v. Sumler (Order)		916

State v. Tony O. (Order) 921

State v. Torres 208

Murder; carrying pistol without permit; claim that trial court improperly excluded evidence that state's witness was assaulted before defendant's first trial, in violation of defendant's sixth amendment rights to present defense and to confront witnesses against him; whether defendant met his burden of proving that trial court's improper exclusion of evidence relating to assault of state's witness was harmful; claim that trial court violated defendant's sixth amendment right to confrontation and rules of evidence by preventing defendant from impeaching state's witness with evidence of her prior criminal convictions.

Stratford Police Dept. v. Board of Firearms Permit Examiners 62

Application for issuance of state pistol permit; administrative appeal; appeal from trial court's judgment reversing decision of named defendant, Board of Firearms Permit Examiners, ordering issuance of pistol permit to defendant; denial by plaintiff police department of pistol permit application on basis of applicant's prior conviction of criminal possession of controlled substance in New York; whether trial court incorrectly concluded that statute (§ 29-28 (b) (2) (B)) automatically disqualifies pistol permit applicant with out-of-state conviction that is equivalent to conviction under statute (§ 21a-279) proscribing possession of controlled substance from receiving permit; whether trial court improperly substituted its judgment for that of board following board's determination that applicant was suitable person to obtain pistol permit.
