A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

- "If a party fails to comply with an order of a judicial authority or a citation to appear or fails without proper excuse to appear in person or by counsel for trial, the party may nonsuited or defaulted by the judicial authority." Conn. Practice Book § 17-19 (2019).
- ". . . there is a clear distinction between a default . . . and a judgment upon default. A default is not a judgment. It is an order of the court the effect of which is to preclude the defendant from making any further defense in the case so far as liability is concerned. A judgment upon default, on the other hand, is the final judgment in the case which is entered after the default and after a hearing in damages." Automotive Twins, Inc. v. Klein, 138 Conn. 28, 33, 82 A.2d 146, 149 (1951).
- "A default 'admits the material facts that constitute a cause of action'; Travelers Indemnity Co. v. Rubin, 209 Conn. 437, 445, 551 A.2d 1220 (1988); and 'entry of default, when appropriately made, conclusively determines the liability of a defendant.' Ratner v. Willametz, 9 Conn. App. 565, 579, 520 A.2d 621 (1987). Despite the entries of default, had the defendants sought to challenge the right of the plaintiffs to maintain their action, or had they intended to prove any matter of defense, they would have been permitted to do so at the hearing in damages upon written notice to the plaintiffs. See Practice Book § 367 [now 17-34]. Moreover, pursuant to Practice Book § 374 [now 17-40], the defendants would have been permitted to appear and offer evidence to reduce the amount of damages claimed without giving any notice." LaRosa v. Kline, 36 Conn. App. 501, 503-504, 651 A.2d 1324, 1326 (1995).

- City of Stamford v. Rahman et al., 188 Conn. App. 1, 204 A3d 24 (2019). “On August 14, 2012, the plaintiff commenced the present action by way of a one count complaint seeking foreclosure of a blight lien held by the plaintiff and recorded in the Stamford land records. The complaint also named other defendants, including Wells Fargo, and alleged that these defendants may claim an interest in the property.” (p. 7)

“We also reject the determination underlying the court’s finding of diligence that Wells Fargo was entitled to notice of the supplemental judgment proceedings despite its default for failure to appear ‘in the first part of the foreclosure action.’ Our rules of practice do not require service of motions on nonappearing, defaulted parties. See Practice Book § 10-12 \(a\) (“[i]t is the responsibility of counsel or a self-represented party filing the same to serve on each other party who has appeared one copy of every pleading subsequent to the original complaint, every written motion other than one in which an order is sought ex parte and every paper relating to discovery, request, demand, claim, notice or similar paper" [emphasis added] )." (p. 16)

- Mortenson v. Peerless Insurance Co., Superior Court, Judicial District of Fairfield at Bridgeport, No. CV136038437S (September 8, 2014) (2014 Conn. Super. Lexis 2311) (2014 WL 5356979). "The defendant received the plaintiff's motion for default for failure to appear and the plaintiff's motion for hearing in damages. Peerless failed to appear throughout the entire process . . . although the plaintiff had been talking to two adjusters who acknowledged notice of the suit, defaults and notice of the hearings in damages. They ignored the plaintiff's request that they appoint a counsel to appear."
- Little v. Mackeyboy Auto, LLC, 142 Conn. App. 14, 20, 62 A.3d 1164, 1168 (2013). ". . . the defendant never claimed that it had not received notice of the plaintiff's action. As reflected in the record, the plaintiff's counsel certified that copies of the motion for default for failure to appear . . . were mailed to the defendant at its business address in New Haven. The court noted . . . that the defendant never claimed that it had not received those copies. The court, then, reasonably could have determined that the defendant had legal and actual notice of the plaintiff's action."
- Abbott Terrace Health Center, Inc. v. Parawich, 120 Conn. App. 78, 85-86, 990 A.2d 1267, 1272 (2010). "In the present case, the defendant was defaulted pursuant to Practice Book § 17-20 due to his failure to enter an appearance. As we recently observed, '[c]ase law makes clear . . . that once the defendants had been defaulted and had failed to file a notice of intent to present defenses, they, by operation of law, were deemed to have admitted to all the essential elements in the claim and would not be allowed to contest liability at the hearing in damages.' Richey v. Main Street Stafford, LLC, 110 Conn. App. 209, 218, 954 A.2d 889 (2008); see also 1 E. Stephenson, Connecticut Civil Procedure (3d Ed. 1997) § 96, p. 282 ('[t]he entry of a default constitutes a technical admission by the defendant of the truth of the facts alleged in the complaint'). 'A default admits the material facts that constitute a cause of action . . . and entry of default, when appropriately made, conclusively determines the liability of a defendant.' (Emphasis added; internal quotation marks omitted.) Schwartz v. Milazzo, 84 Conn. App. 175, 178, 852 A.2d 847, cert. denied, 271 Conn. 942, 861 A.2d 515 (2004). Accordingly, 'the entry of default against the defendant commands the rendering of judgment in favor of the plaintiff.' Peterson v. Woldeyohannes, 111 Conn. App. 784, 791, 961 A.2d 475 (2008). Following the entry of a default, all that remains is for the plaintiff to prove the amount of damages to which it is entitled. DeBlasio v. Aetna Life & Casualty Co., supra, 186 Conn. 401. At a minimum, the plaintiff in such instances is entitled to nominal damages. See id.; Cardona v. Valentin, 160 Conn. 18, 26, 273 A.2d 697 (1970).”

By order dated June 24, 2014, the trial court clerk granted that motion...The order further indicated that if the defendant filed an appearance before judgment was rendered, 'the default for failure to appear shall automatically be set aside by operation of law.' A copy of that order was sent to the defendant.

When the defendant did not file an appearance or otherwise respond to the order, the plaintiff, on July 25, 2014 filed a certificate of closed pleadings and a claim for a hearing in damages on the previously entered default."

'A court should not open a default judgment in cases where the defendants admit they received actual notice and simply chose to ignore the court's authority. ... Negligence of a party or his counsel is insufficient for purposes of § 52-212 to set aside a default judgment.' (Citations omitted.) State v. Ritz Realty Corp., 63 Conn. App. 544, 548-49, 776 A.2d 1195 (2001). Because the failure to satisfy either prong of § 52-212 is fatal, and the defendant failed to satisfy the reasonable cause prong, we need not address the good defense prong. See Weinstein & Wisser, P.C. v. Cornelius, 151 Conn. App. 174, 180, 94 A.3d 700 (2014) (movant must satisfy both prongs of § 52-212; failure to meet either prong is fatal). Accordingly, we conclude that the court did not abuse its discretion in denying the defendant's motions to open."

"General Statutes § 52-212 (a) sets forth the requirements of a motion to open a judgment upon default or nonsuit if filed within four months on which the judgment was rendered or passed. Practice Book § 17-43 (a) tracks the language of General Statutes § 52-212 (a) and adds language that the four months runs succeeding the date notice was sent. The 1997 comment to the rule change clearly states that this notice is sent by the court. The rule and comment do not require the notice to be sent by the court to nonappearing defendants. The JDNO only goes to appearing parties. Therefore, no court notice is sent to nonappearing defendants nor is there any obligation on the court to do so.

Practice Book § 17-22, however, does obligate the prevailing party to send notice of the judgment after default for failure to enter an appearance to the party against whom it is directed, which necessarily, is the nonappearing party. Service must be made in accordance with Practice Book § 10-14 with a copy filed with the clerk's office. Section 10-14 requires the certification to a nonappearing party be made in accordance with Practice Book § 10-12 (a) and (b) and specify the address upon which it is made. . . .

In McLaughlin v. Smoron, 62 Conn. App. 367, 771 A.2d 201 (2001), the court determined that the defendants' motion to open, although filed more than two years later, was timely because the plaintiff did not send proper notice of the default judgment required by Practice Book § 17-22. See also Tyler E. Lyman, Inc. v. Lodrini, 63 Conn. App. 739, 746, 780 A.2d 932, cert. denied, 258 Conn. 902, 782 A.2d 137 (2001) ('Where the defendants have not received notice of the default judgment . . . the time within which they may move to set aside the judgment is extended by the delay in notification.’ [Emphasis in original; internal quotation marks omitted.] With McLaughlin in mind, because the plaintiff did not send notice as required by Practice Book § 17-22, the defendant’s four month period is extended, and the motion is timely.”

App. 288, 295-296, 101 A.3d 292, 297 (2014). “The statutory limitation imposed on motions to open judgments does not implicate the court’s jurisdiction. Rather, our Supreme Court has explained that General Statutes § 52-212a operates as a constraint, not on the trial court’s jurisdictional authority, but on its substantive authority to adjudicate the merits of the case before it.’ Kim v. Magnotta, 249 Conn. 94, 104, 733 A.2d 809 (1999) . . . In the present case, the trial court lacked authority to open the judgment because the defendant never filed a motion to open pursuant to § 52-212 . . . Although the defendant filed his motion to dismiss within the four month time limit imposed by § 52-212, the motion to dismiss did not satisfy the requirements of § 52-212 (a), specifically as to ‘reasonable cause, or that a good cause of action or defense in whole or in part existed at the time of the rendition of the judgment or the passage of the decree, and that the plaintiff or defendant was prevented by mistake, accident or other reasonable cause from prosecuting the action or making the defense.’”

In the present case, the marshal’s return of service . . . states that the marshal made personal service on the defendant . . . In the defendant’s motion to open, the defendant argues that on the date recited in the marshal’s return, he was in New York, New York, and, therefore, was not personally served by the marshal . . . For the foregoing reasons, the defendant has satisfied the statutory requirements set forth in General Statutes § 52-212(a) and Practice Book § 17-43, and the court grants the defendant’s motion to open the default judgment rendered against him.”

DOCKET NO.: CV-11-5014143-S : SUPERIOR COURT
JEFF DZIEDZIC : J.D. OF NEW LONDON
V. : AT NEW LONDON
PINE ISLAND MARINA, LLC : NOVEMBER 9, 2011

MOTION TO OPEN JUDGMENT UPON DEFAULT

The Defendant, Pine Island Marina, LLC, respectfully requests that the Default granted on September 28, 2011 be opened pursuant to Prac. Book §§ 17-43. Prac. Book §§ 17-43 allows “any judgment rendered...upon a default or non-suit may be set aside within four months succeeding the date on which notice was sent.” In this, case Notice was sent on July 12, 2011. That is less than four months from the filing date of this motion. The Defendant was ill advised that it should take no action in this case on the basis that no judgment could be rendered against it because of the dissolution. This was obviously error and is why the Defendant failed to file an appearance.

The Defendant has a number of good faith defenses to present. In this case the Defendant will allege that the limited liability company was dissolved prior to the claim being submitted. The Defendant will claim that the Plaintiff breached contract with the Defendant in that he did not properly manage the company as was his duty. The Defendant will also claim that the Plaintiff failed to act in the best interest of the business by soliciting interference from a manager at People’s United Bank which interfered with the relationship between the Plaintiff and the Defendant. The Plaintiff failed to give the Defendant full disclosure in accounting with regards to financial matters nor did the Plaintiff advise the Defendant of the financial decline of the business. Further, the Plaintiff failed to run the business in accordance with the quality and standards recognized and promulgated by the marina and boating community, the Company and applicable federal, state, and local laws and ordinances. Finally, the Plaintiff failed to outline to the court that the employment agreement which is at the core of this lawsuit is subject to binding arbitration rather than judgment by the court. The Defendant may claim this right.

Given that the Defendant has numerous good faith defenses to this case, the Defendant respectfully requests that the Judgment against them be opened.

DEFINITIONS:

- "If a party who has been defaulted under this section files an answer before a judgment after default has been rendered by the judicial authority, the default shall automatically be set aside by operation of law unless a claim for a hearing in damages or a motion for judgment has been filed. If a claim for a hearing in damages or a motion for judgment has been filed, the default may be set aside only by the judicial authority. A claim for a hearing in damages or motion for judgment shall not be filed before the expiration of fifteen days from the date of notice of issuance of the default under this section." Conn. Practice Book § 17-32\(b\) (2019).
- "A motion to set aside a default where no judgment has been rendered may be granted by the judicial authority for good cause shown upon such terms as it may impose. As part of its order, the judicial authority may extend the time for filing pleadings or disclosure in favor of a party who has not been negligent. "In the present case, the defendant filed an answer and four special defenses, which the plaintiff did not ask him to revise, before the court granted the plaintiff's motion for default. "[T]here is ... support for the proposition that a court commits plain error if, prior to rendering a judgment on default, the court fails to accept for filing a defaulted party's pleading solely on the ground that the pleading is untimely.... General Statutes § 52-121 (a) provides in relevant part: Any pleading in any civil action may be filed after the expiration of the time fixed by statute or by any rule of the court until the court has heard any motion for judgment by default ... for failure to plead which has been filed in writing with the court in which the action is pending." Id., quoting Connecticut Light & Power Co. v. St. John, supra, 80 Conn. App. at 775, 837 A.2d 841. The court, therefore, was without authority to grant the motion for default against the defendant and, thus, should have granted his motion to strike the matter from the hearing in damages list. "
- Spilke v. Wicklow, 138 Conn. App. 251, 267-268, 53 A.3d 245, 254-255 (2012). "The defendants then filed a motion to open the default for failure to plead on October 18, 2010. In the motion, the defendants argued that the default was due to miscommunication between the defendants and their attorney as well as their attorney's chronic illness . . . . The court stated that, although the defendants had apprised it that their attorney had health issues in late 2009, that 'does not answer, or even address, the question of how or why defaults which entered in March, 2007, were permitted to stand unchallenged for more than three years. The only explanation given, essentially that [the defendants] had instructed [their counsel] to try to handle their case "on the cheap" ... is hardly "good cause" for allowing three years ... or even the first two of those years, before [the defendants' attorney's] health problems created additional problems ... to pass without taking any action with respect to the defaults.' The court therefore determined that there was no good cause to set aside the default and denied the defendants' motion."

984, 989 (2009). "The distinction between whether Practice Book § 17-32 applies or Practice Book § 17-42 applies is whether a claim for a hearing in damages is filed before, or after, a motion to set aside the default is filed."

- Whalen v. Ives, 37 Conn. App. 7, 13, 654 A.2d 798, 801 (1995). "Section 376 [now § 17-42] applies to all defaults and permits the court to set aside such defaults prior to judgment. A party who is defaulted for a reason other than failure to plead must use this section. A defendant who wants to file a pleading that precedes the answer may also resort to this section. In contrast, § 363A [now § 17-32] applies only to defaults for failure to plead and only when the defendant elects to waive the right to file preceding pleadings by filing an answer prior to judgment."

A trial court’s authority to open such judgments does not arise from . . . § 52-212(a) or Practice Book [§17-43] but from its inherent power to open a judgment rendered without jurisdiction . . . . In other words, a court always has the inherent authority to open a default judgment, irrespective of the four month rule and the valid defense and good cause requirement in Practice Book § 17-43 and General Statutes § 52-212(a), if the judgment was rendered without jurisdiction of the parties or of the subject matter.’ (Internal quotation marks omitted.) - Insurance Co. of Pennsylvania v. Waterfield, 102 Conn. App. 277, 284-285, 925 A.2d 451, 456 (2007). “The defendant argues that the court improperly refused to open the judgment. Specifically, the defendant argues that the court failed to follow General Statutes §§ 52–120 and 52–121(a) and (c) . . . Section 52–120, which requires a written agreement, is inapplicable because no such agreement exists. The defendant argues that the federal scheduling order was the written agreement. He neither cites, nor does our research reveal, however, any legal support for his argument. Likewise, § 52–121(c) is not applicable in this case because the court did not impose a penalty on the defendant for failure to plead, but rather rendered judgment of default for failure to plead pursuant to General Statutes § 52-121(b). Finally, § 52-121(a) does not result in an automatic grant of a motion to open, as the defendant claims; rather, the granting of a motion to open is within the court's discretion. The defendant had ample time to respond to the amended complaint, which was filed on May 7, 2004. Furthermore, the fact that the defendant filed a third motion for an extension of time is irrelevant to the court's denial of the defendant's motion to open. In this case, on the basis of the detailed time line, which reveals that the defendant's dilatory tactics permeate this litigation, the court was well within its discretion to handle the situation as it did."

- Richards v. Trudeau, 54 Conn. App. 859, 863, 738 A.2d 215, 217 (1999). "An examination of the transcript of the hearing in damages, held on May 17, 1996, discloses that the defendants offered an answer to the trial court, which they were attempting to file that morning. The trial court ruled, however, that it would not permit the defendants to file the answer at that time. It noted that it had been almost one year since the default had been entered against them and ruled that to permit the filing of the answer, the result of which would have been to set aside the default under Practice Book § 17-32, would have been 'highly improper.' The trial court found that the attempted filing of the defendants' answer at that time was 'a patent attempt to stall unfairly and unreasonably a matter that has already been defaulted.' Our review of the record reveals that the trial court did not abuse its discretion in refusing to accept the defendants' answer or in refusing to set aside the default judgment for failure to plead."

This Court has jurisdiction because this motion is timely filed within the four months allowed by Conn. Gen. Stat. §52-212 (2005) and the $70 filing fee required by Conn. Gen. Stat. § 52-259c (2005) has been paid.

This is not a case where I placed my head in the sand and hoped for the best. I have diligently opposed the Plaintiff's claims, at every step of the litigation. The August 30, 2004 default was granted on the same day that my motion to extend the time to Respond to Plaintiffs' Revised Complaint was denied. As explained above, subsequent to the State Court's denial of my request for an extension within which to respond to the plaintiff's complaint, while in Federal Court, the parties signed an agreement to give me an extension. I have not ignored this litigation, and I request the opportunity to clear my name of these scandalous, unfounded larceny charges, and to prove my Special Defenses and Counterclaims, all of which is in the best interests of justice.

Section 3: Other Grounds for Default

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

SCOPE:

Bibliographic resources relating to defaults for failure to:

- Prosecute the suit
- Comply with order of judicial authority
- Appear for trial
- Make disclosures, answer interrogatories or comply with a discovery order
- Disclose defense
- Obey pretrial orders

Also, opening or setting aside a default prior to judgment, and opening or setting aside a judgment upon default for the grounds listed above.

DEFINITIONS:

- Nonsuit: "Generally speaking, a nonsuit is the name of a judgment rendered against a party in a legal proceeding upon his inability to maintain his cause in court, or when he is in default in prosecuting his suit or in complying with orders of the court. (Citations omitted; footnote omitted; internal quotation marks omitted.) Rodriguez v. Mallory Battery Co., 188 Conn. 145, 149–50, 448 A.2d 829 (1982); see General Statutes § 52-119." Herrick v. Monkey Farm Café, LLC, 163 Conn. App. 45, 50, 134 A.3d 643 (2016)
- Comply with order: "If a party fails to comply with an order of a judicial authority or a citation to appear or fails without proper excuse to appear in person or by counsel for trial, the party may be . . . defaulted by the judicial authority." Conn. Practice Book § 17-19 (2019).
- Trial: "If a defendant is defaulted for failure to appear for trial, evidence may be introduced and judgment rendered without notice to the defendant." Conn. Practice Book § 17-33\(a\) (2019).
- Discovery: "If any party has failed to answer interrogatories or to answer them fairly, or has intentionally answered them falsely or in a manner calculated to mislead, or has failed to respond to requests for production or for disclosure of the existence and contents of an insurance policy or the limits thereof, or has failed to submit to a physical or mental examination, or has failed to comply with a discovery order made pursuant to Section 13-13, or has failed to comply with the provisions of Section 13-15, or has failed to appear and testify at a deposition duly noticed pursuant to this chapter, or has failed otherwise substantially to comply with any other discovery order made pursuant to Sections 13-6 through 13-11, the judicial authority may, on motion, make such order as the ends of justice require. (b) Such orders may include the following: (1) The entry of a . . . default against the party failing to comply.” Conn. Practice Book § 13-14 (2019).

- Disclosure of Defense: “In any action to foreclose or to discharge any mortgage or lien or to quiet title, or in any action upon any written contract, in which there is an appearance by an attorney for any defendant, the plaintiff may at any time file and serve in accordance with Sections 10-12 through 10-17 a written demand that such attorney present to the court, to become a part of the file in such case, a writing signed by the attorney stating whether he or she has reason to believe and does believe that there exists a bona fide defense to the plaintiff’s action and whether such defense will be made, together with a general statement of the nature or substance of such defense. If the defendant fails to disclose a defense within ten days of the filing of such demand in any action to foreclose a mortgage or lien or to quiet title, or in any action upon any written contract, the plaintiff may file a written motion that a default be entered against the defendant by reason of the failure of the defendant to disclose a defense. If no disclosure of defense has been filed, the judicial authority may order judgment upon default to be entered for the plaintiff at the time the motion is heard or thereafter, provided that in either event a separate motion for such judgment has been filed. The motions for default and for judgment upon default may be served and filed simultaneously but shall be separate motions.” Conn. Practice Book § 13-19 (2019).
- Pretrial Procedure: “If any person fails to attend . . . the judicial authority may make such order as the ends of justice require, which may include the entry of a . . . default against the party failing to comply and an award to the complying party of reasonable attorney’s fees.” Conn. Practice Book § 14-13 (2019).

- Spatta v. American Classic Cars, LLC, 150 Conn. App. 20, 23-24, 90 A.3d 318, 320-321 (2014). “In the course of ruling on the motion for sanctions, the court did not impose the sanction of default that was threatened in the court’s July 25, 2011 order. Instead, the court ... gave the defendants another opportunity to meet their discovery obligations . . . . The responses to all seven requests for production are woefully deficient and suggest bad faith by the defendants . . . . In view of the history regarding discovery issues in this case, the inadequate responses by the defendants justify the imposition of sanctions at this time. [See] Practice Book [§] 13-14(b).”
- Thompson v. Orcutt, 70 Conn. App. 427, 442, 800 A.2d 530, 541 (2002). “Entry of a default for failure to appear for trial is a matter left to the sound discretion of the trial court. Brunswick School, Inc. v. Hutter, 53 Conn.App. 455, 459, 730 A.2d 1206 (1999). Practice Book § 17-19 provides in relevant part: ‘If a party ... fails without proper excuse to appear in person or by counsel for trial, the party may be nonsuited or defaulted by the judicial authority.' In response to the defendants' motion for articulation, the trial court stated that the bankruptcy trustee had been defaulted for failure to appear at trial. Apart from the entry of a formal appearance on February 23, 1999, O'Neil did not submit any pleadings in the case, did not appear on the scheduled trial date and has not filed a motion to open the default. We conclude that the court did not abuse its discretion in defaulting O'Neil for his failure to appear at trial."

Reopening default

- Janetty Racing Enterprises, Inc. v. Site Development Technologies, LLC et al., Superior Court, Judicial District of Waterbury at Waterbury, No. UWYCV050444820 (October 8, 2010) (2010 Conn. Super. Lexis 2543) (2010 WL 4352712). "Given the court's decision to open the Judgment of Default in this matter, defendants' Motion to Set Aside the Default that entered on May 15, 2008 when they failed to attend the pretrial is governed by Practice Book § 17-42: 'A motion to set aside a default where no judgment has been rendered may be granted by the judicial authority for good cause shown upon such terms as it may impose.' The record clearly demonstrates that the only notice defendants received of the May 15, 2008 pretrial was Attorney Miller's certified letter informing them of his intention to seek leave to withdraw as their counsel. Attorney Miller mentions the pretrial on the second page of his letter and it is understandable defendants may have overlooked it or simply did not realize what a pretrial was or that they had to attend. This is particularly plausible in light of the evidence that the letter was sent as a result of a deteriorated relationship between defendants and Attorney Miller. As a result, the court finds that good cause existed for defendants' failure to attend the pretrial and the default entered on May 15, 2008 is hereby set aside."

Reopening judgment upon default

- Automotive Twins, Inc. v. Klein, 138 Conn. 28, 34, 82 A.2d 146, 149-150 (1951). "An application to open a judgment upon default is, when not based on a pure error of law, addressed to the sound discretion of the court. Jartman v. Pacific Fire Ins. Co., 69 Conn. 355, 362, 37 A. 970. For this discretion to be exercised in favor of the defaulted party, it must be shown that he was prevented from appearing by 'mistake, accident or other reasonable cause.' The judgment should not ordinarily be opened if his failure to appear or procure a continuance resulted from his own negligence. Schoonmaker v. Albertson & Douglass Machine Co., supra, 392.

The defendant's excuse for not appearing was that he was engaged in trial elsewhere. We are cognizant of the custom which has grown up of adjourning the trial of a case if, when it is reached, counsel for any party is actually engaged in the trial of another case. Such an adjournment, however, is not a matter of right. It is a matter of courtesy - a courtesy extended by both opposing counsel and the court. Its exercise calls for the reciprocal courtesy on the part of the lawyer engaged elsewhere of at least communicating the fact of his engagement to both opposing counsel and the court in advance of the time set for the trial. Under ordinary circumstances, an attorney who fails so to advise of his inability to attend the trial thereby evinces a lack of proper respect for the court. If a default results from such failure, he has no ground for complaint. The default is the result of his own neglect."

Fiamengo v. Duffy, Superior Court, Judicial	"Practice Book § 17-32 (b) provides that '[a] claim for a hearing in damages or motion for judgment shall not be filed before the expiration of fifteen days from the date of the issuance of the

District of Hartford at Hartford, No. CV000801777S (April 3, 2001) (2001 Conn. Super. Lexis 978) (2001 WL 417650).	default under this section.’ The plaintiffs claim, having been filed only four days after the granting of his request for a default, was thus filed too early. The same Practice Book section also provides that ‘[i]f a claim for a hearing in damages or a motion for a judgment has been filed the default may be set aside only by the judicial authority.’ Practice Book § 17-32 (b). Construing these two provisions together, it would appear that a defendant’s remedy when, as here, a claim for a hearing in damages is filed too early is to move to set aside the default under Practice Book § 17-42. This section provides that ‘[a] motion to set aside a default where no judgment has been rendered may be granted by the judicial authority for good cause shown upon such terms as it may impose.’ Certainly the plaintiff’s premature filing of a claim for a hearing in damages may constitute the ‘good cause’ that would justify setting aside the default under this section. Because, in this case, the defendant failed to file a motion to set aside the default, the court will not relieve him of his default for failure to plead.”
Deercliff Homeowners Assn. v. Seraya, Superior Court, Judicial District of New Britain at New Britain, No. CV970482805S (February 28, 2001) (2001 Conn. Super. LEXIS 670) (2001 WL 283015).	“Concerning the determination as to whether to open a default, rule of practice § 17-42 states: ‘[a] motion to set aside a default may be granted by the judicial authority for good cause shown upon such terms as it may impose.’ The court, in its discretion, may consider the presence of mistake, inadvertence, misfortune or other reasonable cause. See Higgins v. Karp, 243 Conn. 495, 508, 706 A.2d 1 (1998) (previously cited by the court in its November 3, 2000 order). It may consider ‘factors such as the seriousness of the default, its duration, the reasons for it and the degree of contumacy involved . . . [as well as] the totality of the circumstances, including whether the delay has caused prejudice to the nondefaulting party.’ (Internal quotation marks and citation omitted.) Id. As noted, except for its procedural arguments, which the court addressed above, and its advancement of what it claims are meritorious defenses, which the court addresses below, Seraya has advanced no argument explaining why the defaults should be vacated. It has not even contended, for example, that the November, 1997 default was the result of mistake, inadvertence, misfortune or other reasonable cause. Instead, it has chosen to act as though that court action, taken over three years ago, did not exist. It has done so in the face of being put on notice of it again, by the court, on the record, on September 18, 2000. Deercliff also pleaded the existence of this default in its objection to the September, 2000 motion to open the April, 2000 default for failure to plead.”

"The court's function at a hearing in damages is to assess and award damages. Because the defendant has been defaulted for failure to plead, all allegations in the plaintiffs' complaint as to the defendant's liability are deemed true. 'A default admits the material facts that constitute a cause of action and entry of default, when appropriately made, conclusively determines the liability of a defendant . . . .
