Introduction

A Guide to Resources in the Law Library

- Motion for Clarification. “Motions for interpretation or clarification, although not specifically described in the rules of practice, are commonly considered by trial courts and are procedurally proper.” Holcombe v. Holcombe, 22 Conn. App. 363, 366, 576 A.2d 1317 (1990).
- Motion to Reargue: “[T]he purpose of a reargument is . . . to demonstrate to the court that there is some decision or some principle of law which would have a controlling effect, and which has been overlooked, or that there has been a misapprehension of facts.’ (Internal quotation marks omitted.) Jaser v. Jaser, 37 Conn. App. 194, 202, 655 A.2d 790 (1995). It also may be used ‘to address alleged inconsistencies in the trial court’s memorandum of decision as well as claims of law that the [movant] claimed were not addressed by the court.’ K. A. Thompson Electric Co. v. Wesco, Inc., 24 Conn. App. 758, 760, 591 A.2d 822 (1991). ‘[A] motion to reargue [however] is not to be used as an opportunity to have a second bite of the apple or to present additional cases or briefs which could have been presented at the time of the original argument.’ (Internal quotation marks omitted.) Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Greathouse, supra, Superior Court, Docket No. 164835.” Opoku v. Grant, 63 Conn. App. 686, 692-693, 778 A.2d 981 (2001).
- New Trial: “The Superior Court may grant a new trial of any action that may come before it, for mispleading, the discovery of new evidence or want of actual notice of the action to any defendant or of a reasonable opportunity to appear and defend, when a just defense in whole or part existed, or the want of actual notice to any plaintiff of the entry of a nonsuit for failure to appear at trial or dismissal for failure to prosecute with reasonable diligence, or for other reasonable cause, according to the usual rules in such cases. The judges of the Superior Court may in addition provide by rule for the granting of new trials upon prompt request in cases where the parties or their counsel have not adequately protected their rights during the original trial of an action.” Conn. Gen. Stats. § 52-270\(a\) (2017).
- Setting Aside or opening judgments: “(a) Unless otherwise provided by law and except in such cases in which the court has continuing jurisdiction, any civil judgment or decree rendered in the superior court may not be opened or set aside unless a motion to open or set aside is filed within four months succeeding the date on which notice was sent. The parties may waive the provisions of this subsection or otherwise submit to the jurisdiction of the court.” Conn. Practice Book § 17-4 (2017). [Emphasis added].
- Modifying Judgment: “When presented with a motion for modification, a court must first determine whether there has been a substantial change in the financial circumstances of one or both of the parties Second, if the court finds a substantial change in circumstances, it may properly consider the motion and, on the basis of the § 46b-82 criteria, make an order for modification The court has the authority to issue a modification only if it conforms the order to the distinct and definite changes in the circumstances of the parties.” Crowley v. Crowley, 46 Conn. App. 87, 92, 699 A.2d 1029 (1997).

DEFINITIONS:

- Petition for a New Trial: "The Superior Court may grant a new trial of any action that may come before it, for misleading, the discovery of new evidence or want of actual notice of the action to any defendant or of a reasonable opportunity to appear and defend, when a just defense in whole or part existed, or the want of actual notice to any plaintiff of the entry of a nonsuit for failure to appear at trial or dismissal for failure to prosecute with reasonable diligence, or for other reasonable cause, according to the usual rules in such cases. The judges of the Superior Court may in addition provide by rule for the granting of new trials upon prompt request in cases where the parties or their counsel have not adequately protected their rights during the original trial of an action." Conn. Gen. Stats. § 52-270\(a\) (2017).
- Motion for New Trial: "Motions. . . for new trials, unless brought by petition served on the adverse party or parties, and motions pursuant to General Statutes 52-225a for reduction of the verdict due to collateral source payments must be filed with the clerk within ten days after the day the verdict is accepted; provided that for good cause the judicial authority may extend this time. The clerk shall notify the trial judge of such filing. Such motions shall state the specific grounds upon which counsel relies." Conn. Practice Book § 16-35 (2017).
- Motion vs. Petition: "So far as the right of appeal is concerned, there is a distinction between an order granting a motion for a new trial and a judgment entered upon a petition for a new trial, which may be instituted at any time within three years after a judgment is rendered The latter is appealable." Hoberman v. Lake of Isles, Inc., 138 Conn. 573, 576, 87 A.2d 137 (1952). [Emphasis added].

It does not furnish a substitute for, or an alternative to, an ordinary appeal but applies only when no other remedy is adequate and when in equity and good conscience relief against a judgment should be granted.... In considering a petition, trial judges must give first consideration to the proposition that there must be an end to litigation." (Internal quotation marks omitted.) Murphy v. - [Marshall v. Marshall, 119 Conn. App. 120, 988 A. 2d 314 (2010). "The plaintiff does not contend that the defendant cannot satisfy the reasonable cause test for a new trial on the basis of the underlying facts. Instead, she maintains that the petition itself is technically deficient in that it fails to set forth adequately the claim that a new trial is warranted for 'other reasonable cause.' Consequently, the defendant's petition for a new trial, according to the plaintiff, fails to state a cause of action on which relief can be granted. . . .

"Upon our careful examination of the petition, construing it in the light most favorable to the defendant, we conclude that a claim for a new trial on the basis of 'other reasonable cause' was sufficiently pleaded."
- Bleidner v. Searles, 19 Conn. App. 76, 78, 561 A.2d 954 (1989). "A petition for a new trial is a statutory remedy that is essentially equitable in nature. State v. Grimes, 154 Conn. 314, 325, 228 A.2d 141 (1966). General Statutes 52-270 sets forth the limited circumstances in which a new trial will be granted. The petitioner has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he is entitled to a new trial on the grounds claimed. Johnson v. Henry, 38 Conn.

Sup. 718, 719-20, 461 A.2d 1001, cert. denied, 464 U.S. 1011, 104 S.Ct. 533, 78 L.Ed.2d 714 (1983). The petition is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial court. Rizzo v. Pack, 15 Conn. App. 312, 315, 544 A.2d 252 (1988)."

- Burr v. Lichtenheim, 190 Conn. 351, 355, 460 A.2d 1290 (1983). "Any motion for a new trial is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial court and will not be granted except on substantial grounds."
- Corbin v. Corbin, 179 Conn. 622, 626, 427 A.2d 432 (1980). "Whether the plaintiff's motion is treated as a motion to open judgment or as a petition for a new trial is immaterial. The granting or denial of such motions rests in the sound discretion of the trial court, reviewable only in the case of abuse One of the essential requirements for the granting of either motion is that the evidence which the party seeks to offer could not have been known and with reasonable diligence produced at trial Since it is undisputed that the evidence the plaintiff sought to introduce was known to him at the time of the trial, the court did not err in denying the plaintiff's motion."
- Pass v. Pass, 152 Conn. 508, 511-512, 208 A.2d 753 (1965). "The rules for granting a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence are well established. The evidence must, in fact, be newly discovered, material to the issue on a new trial, such that it could not have been discovered and produced on the former trial by the exercise of due diligence, not merely cumulative and likely to produce a different result."
- Jaser v. Jaser, 37 Conn. App. 194, 198 fn.3, 655 A.2d 790 (1955). "We understand and appreciate the reasons which might conflict with a rule mandating that minor children be represented at every stage of the proceedings in every matrimonial case. Matrimonial actions, although brought to a public arena because of the inability of persons to resolve their conflicts, are extraordinarily private in nature and should continue to be so viewed."
- Miner v. Miner, 137 Conn. 642, 645-646, 80 A.2d 512 (1951). "One of the burdens assumed by a petitioner for a new trial is that of proving the substance of the new evidence proposed to be offered. No such proof was furnished. The situation was similar to that in Luth v. Butwill, 119 Conn. 697, 176 A. 552, where we said (p. 698): 'When the motion came on for hearing, no witnesses were produced and the case was argued upon the allegations of the motion. The production of witnesses in support of the newly discovered evidence was necessary unless their testimony was formally admitted. . . . Under these circumstances there was no basis upon which the trial court could properly make a finding. No issue of law was made as to the sufficiency of the allegations and the record affords no basis upon which we can review the denial of the motion. When the adverse party elects to file a demurrer, the allegations of the petition are admitted for the purpose of ruling on the demurrer. Krooner v. State, 137 Conn. 58, 62, 75 A.2d 51. No such procedure was adopted in the case at bar."

Complaint for New Trial

1. The defendant brought an action against the plaintiff for breach of contract to this court, in which action a trial was thereafter had to the jury, upon issue joined on the answer of this plaintiff, and a verdict was rendered against this plaintiff for $ damages, which verdict was accepted by the court, and judgment rendered thereon on
2. At the trial it became and was a material question whether (here state the particular point in dispute to which the newly discovered evidence relates).
3. Exhibit A, annexed, is a correct statement of all the evidence relevant to the issue produced by the defendant at the trial.
4. Exhibit B, annexed, is a correct statement of all the evidence relevant to the issue produced by this plaintiff at the trial.
5. Since the trial, this plaintiff has discovered material evidence in his favor, which evidence he failed to discover, and was unable to discover, before or during the trial, although he used all reasonable diligence in endeavoring to find testimony in his favor.
6. Said newly discovered evidence is the following, to wit:
(set out the names and residences of witnesses, and the substance of what they will testify; also any newly discovered documentary evidence).
7. The verdict and judgment against the plaintiff are unjust.

The plaintiff claims, that the former verdict and judgment be set aside, and that he be allowed a new trial of the cause.

- SEE ALSO:
- Motion Practice In Family Matters (Section 4: Motion to Open Judgment in a Family Matter)
 - Discovery \(Financial\) in Family Matters (Section 2: Postjudgment Discovery – Motion to Open Based on Fraud)
- DEFINITION:
- Setting Aside or opening judgments: “(a) Unless otherwise provided by law and except in such cases in which the court has continuing jurisdiction, any civil judgment or decree rendered in the superior court may not be opened or set aside unless a motion to open or set aside is filed within four months succeeding the date on which notice was sent. The parties may waive the provisions of this subsection or otherwise submit to the jurisdiction of the court.” Conn. Practice Book § 17-4 (2017). [Emphasis added]
 - The purpose of a motion to open is to permit the granting of a new trial when a party had a meritorious defense but did not have an opportunity to present it. It is not a substitute for an appeal of a claimed error which the party knew or should have known at the time the appeal could have been taken. Clapper v. Clapper, 3 Conn.  - What it is not: “The claims in the motion to open were merely a repeat of the claims before the trial court. If the defendant disagreed with that court, he should have appealed its decision.” Clapper v. Clapper, 3 Conn. App. 637, 490 A.2d 1030 (1985).
 - “It is a well-established general rule that . . . a judgment rendered by the court . . . can subsequently be opened [after the four month limitation set forth in General Statutes § 52-212a and Practice Book § 17-43] . . . if it is shown that . . . the judgment, was obtained by fraud . . . or because of mutual mistake.” [Terry v. provided by law and except in such cases in which the court has continuing jurisdiction, a civil judgment or decree rendered in the Superior Court may not be opened or set aside unless a motion to open or set aside is filed within four months following the date on which it was rendered or passed. The continuing jurisdiction conferred on the court in preadoptive proceedings pursuant to subsection (o) of section 17a-112 does not confer continuing jurisdiction on the court for purposes of reopening a judgment terminating parental rights. The parties may waive the provisions of this section or otherwise submit to the jurisdiction of the court, provided the filing of an amended petition for termination of parental rights does not constitute a waiver of the provisions of this section or a submission to the jurisdiction of the court to reopen a judgment terminating parental rights.

only that there is probable cause to sustain the validity of the claim.... If the moving party demonstrates to the court that there is probable cause to believe that the judgment was obtained by fraud, the court may permit discovery.' (Internal quotation marks omitted.) *Gaary v. - Sousa v. Sousa, 173 Conn. App. 755, 758 (2017). "A party seeking to open a judgment beyond the passage of the four month limitation period from its rendering provided by General Statutes § 52-212a under an exception for judgments procured by fraud, bears the burden of proving fraud in all of its elements by clear and convincing evidence."
- Billington v. Billington, 220 Conn. 212, 218, 595 A.2d 1377 (1991). "In Varley v. Varley, supra, [180 Conn. 1,428 A.2d 317 (1980)] we imposed four limitations on the granting of relief from a marital judgment secured by fraud: '(1) There must have been no laches or unreasonable delay by the injured party after the fraud was discovered. (2) There must have been diligence in the original action, that is, diligence in trying to discover and expose the fraud. (3) There must be clear proof of the perjury or fraud. (4) There must be a substantial likelihood that the result of the new trial will be different' but see Greger v. Greger, [22 Conn. App. 596, 578 A.2d 162, cert. den., 216 Conn. 820, 581 A.2d 1055(1990)] . . . (express finding of fraud on court required that judgment be opened without regard to four limitations). In this case, we, are concerned only with the second of these limitations, namely, that the party seeking to open the judgment exercised diligence in the original action in order to discover and expose the fraud. We are persuaded that the time has come to abandon that limitation." [Emphasis added]
- DiSimone v. Vitello, 6 Conn. App. 390, 505 A.2d 745 (1986). "At the most, where a defendant does not otherwise have notice of a default judgment, such a delay would merely extend the time in which the defendant could move to set aside the judgment Since the defendants' motion was filed more than four months after they received actual notice of the judgment, the court lacked jurisdiction to set the judgment aside."
- Clapper v. Clapper, 3 Conn. App. 637,638,490 A.2d 1030 (1985). "The purpose of a motion to open is to permit the granting of a new trial when a party had a meritorious defense but did not have an opportunity to present it. It is not a substitute for an appeal of a claimed error which the party knew or should have known at the time the appeal could have been taken."

- Van Mecklenburg v. Pan American World Airways, Inc., 196 Conn. 517,519, 494 A.2d 549 (1985). "...payment of such fee is mandatory upon the filing of a motion to open. It therefore follows that an otherwise properly filed motion to open will not be accepted by the court unless accompanied by the filing fee. Since the plaintiff did not pay the required fee until October 15, the motion was not filed until that date, and as such, is untimely under the four month rule."
- Robertson v. Robertson, 164 Conn. 140, 143-144, 318 A.2d 106 (1972). "From these it is clear that the court acquired no jurisdiction to render a judgment on June 24, 1966, binding the defendant personally, since he was a nonresident on whom personal service had not been made, although it did have jurisdiction in rem over the attached realty. An order directing the payment of alimony or support is a judgment in personam. Beardsley v. Beardsley, 144 Conn. 725, 726-27, 137 A.2d 752. Without personal service on the defendant, the court on June 24, 1966, had no jurisdiction to render a judgment in personam unless the defendant appeared voluntarily." [Emphasis added]

- Substantial change in circumstances: “When presented with a motion for modification, a court must first determine whether there has been a substantial change in the financial circumstances of one or both of the parties Second, if the court finds a substantial change in circumstances, it may properly consider the motion and, on the basis of the § 46b-82 criteria, make an order for modification The court has the authority to issue a modification only if it conforms the order to the distinct and definite changes in the circumstances of the parties.” Crowley v. Crowley, 46 Conn. App. 87, 92, 699 A.2d 1029 (1997).
- Limitations: “When determining whether there is a substantial change in circumstances, the court is limited in its consideration to conditions arising subsequent to the entry of the dissolution decree.” Spencer v. Spencer, 71 Conn. App. 475, 481, 802 A.2d 215 (2002).
- Modification of Visitation: “In ruling on a motion to modify visitation, the court is not required to find as a threshold matter that a change in circumstances has occurred. Szczerkowski v. Karmelowicz, 60 Conn.App. 429, 433, 759 A.2d 1050 (2000); see also McGinty v. McGinty, 66 Conn.App. 35, 40, 783 A.2d 1170 (2001). Instead, “[i]n modifying an order concerning visitation, the trial court shall “be guided by the best interests of the child....” General Statutes § 46b-56 (b).’ Kelly v. Kelly, 54 Conn.App. 50, 57, 732 A.2d 808 (1999);” Balaska v. Balaska, 130 Conn. App. 510, 515-16, 25 A.3d 680, 684 (2011).
- Decree or order of the court required: “Thus, even if the parties had agreed that the defendant would not be obligated to comply with the alimony order, that agreement would not be effective to modify the defendant's obligation because, as previously stated, “[d]ecrees in a dissolution action cannot be modified by acts of the parties without further decree or order by the court.’ Albrecht v. Albrecht, 19 Conn. App. 146, 151, 562 A.2d 528, cert. denied, 212 Conn. 813, 565 A.2d 534 (1989).” Ford v. Ford, 72 Conn. App. 137, 141, 804 A.2d 215 (2002).

- Modification: “means a child custody determination that changes, replaces, supersedes or is otherwise made after a previous determination concerning the same child, whether or not it is made by the court that made the prior custody determination.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 46b-115a\(11\) (2017).
- Modification of child support: “...any final order for the periodic payment of permanent alimony or support, an order for alimony or support pendente lite or an order requiring either party to maintain life insurance for the other party or a minor child of the parties may, at any time thereafter, be continued, set aside, altered or modified by the court upon a showing of a substantial change in the circumstances of either party or upon a showing that the final order for child support substantially deviates from the child support guidelines....” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 46b-86\(a\) (2017).
- Amending or revoking premarital agreement: “After marriage, a premarital agreement may be amended or revoked only by a written agreement signed by the parties. The amended agreement or the revocation shall be enforceable without consideration.” Conn. Gen. Stat. § 46b-36f (2017) [effective October 1, 1995 and applicable to premarital agreements executed on or after that date].
- Appellate Standard of Review: “An appellate court will not disturb a trial court’s orders in domestic relations cases unless the court has abused its discretion or it is found that it could not reasonably conclude as it did, based on the facts presented. . . . In determining whether a trial court has abused its broad discretion in domestic relations matters, we allow every reasonable presumption in favor of the correctness of its action.” (Internal quotation marks omitted.) Aley v. Aley, 101 Conn. App. 220, 223, 922 A.2d 184 (2007). Rosier v. Rosier, 103 Conn. App. 338, 928 A.2d 1228 (2007).
